Data in Many Forms...

Statistics Canada disseminates data in a variety of forms: In addition to publications, both standard and special tabulations are offered on computer print-outs, microfiche and microfilm, and magnetic tapes. Maps and other geographic reference materials are available for some types of data. Direct access to aggregated information is possible through CANSIM, Statistics Canada's machine-readable data base and retrieval system.

HIGHLIGHTS

Apparent per capita consumption of potatoes in Canada in 1986 is up 19.8% over 1985 levels (77.70 kg per year versus 64.87 kg per year). Fresh mushroom consumption is up 26.1% in 1986 at 1.74 kg per year compared to the 1985 level of 1.38 kg per year.

A decrease of 14.1% in the apparent per capita consumption of cabbage is observed, from 6.45 kg per year in 1985 to 5.54 kg per year in 1986.

INTRODUCTION

The contents of this statistical publication provide a summary of data pertaining to food and its relative importance to the consumer.

A residual approach is used in calculating quantities of food available for human use. The starting point is the preparation of annual balance sheets which show the supply and disposition of each food item. To obtain gross supply, imports and beginning stocks are added to production estimates. This figure minus exports and ending stocks produces net supply. Fresh and frozen food stocks statistics are based on quantities held in cold storage and wholesale warehouses. Stocks of other manufactured goods represent inventories held at the plant level.

The approximate amount of food available for human consumption is found by subtracting seed requirements, manufacturing inputs, livestock feed and waste where applicable from the net food supply.

The data for the components of the food balance sheets are mainly derived from farm surveys and reports by firms engaged in producing and marketing in the food industry. The net food figure represents the supply of food leaving the wholesale level destined for retail distribution.

The waste factors used for specific commodities attempt to account for waste up to the retail level but do not allow for losses in stores, households, private institutions or restaurants.

FAITS SAILLANTS

La consommation apparente par personne au Canada des pommes de terre a augmenté de 19.8% entre 1985 (64.87 kg par année) et 1986 (77.70 kg par année). La consommation des champignons frais a augmenté de 26.1% en 1986 à 1.74 kg par année, comparé à 1.38 kg par année en 1985.

On retrouve une diminution de 14.1% dans la consommation apparente par personne de choux, de 6.45 kg par année en 1985 à 5.54 kg par année en 1986.

INTRODUCTION

Le contenu de cette publication statistique constitue un résumé des données se rapportant aux aliments et à leur importance relative pour le consommateur.

Pour calculer les quantités d'aliments disponibles pour la consommation humaine, on utilise une méthode indirecte. Le point de départ est la préparation de bilans annuels, qui montrent les ressources et emplois de chaque produit alimentaire. Pour obtenir les ressources brutes, on ajoute les importations et les stocks initiaux aux estimations de la production. En soustrayant de ce chiffre les exportations et les stocks de fermeture, on obtient les ressources nettes. Les statistiques des stocks d'aliments frais et congelés sont fondées sur les quantités détenues en entreposage frigorifique et dans les entrepôts de gros. Les stocks des autres biens fabriqués représentent les stocks détenus à l'usine.

On obtient la quantité approximative d'aliments disponibles pour la consommation humaine en soustrayant des ressources alimentaires nettes, les semences requises, les aliments destinés à l'utilisation industrielle, les aliments pour animaux et le gaspillage, lorsqu'il y a lieu.

Les données sur les composantes des bilans alimentaires sont tirées surtout des enquêtes agricoles et des déclarations des entreprises qui s'adonnent à la production et la commercialisation dans l'industrie alimentaire. Le chiffre de la quantité nette d'aliments représente les ressources alimentaires qui partent du niveau de gros pour la distribution au détail.

Les facteurs de perte utilisés dans le cas de certains aliments visent à tenir compte de la perte qui se produit avant le niveau de détail, mais ne tiennent pas compte des pertes dans les magasins, les ménages, les institutions privées et les restaurants.

Per capita values do not represent total food supplies actually consumed by an individual or specific group of individuals but provide data on what is available for consumption on the average by the total Canadian population as of July 1. The population figures used in this publication are 25,380,000 for 1985 and 25,354,000 for 1986.

The measurement of per capita retail weight values in other forms such as sugar content, fresh equivalent weights and milk solids involves the use of average conversion factors.

Data for 1986 are preliminary and subject to revision. Estimates are usually made when data are not available in time for inclusion in this publication and are needed to complete per capita food disappearance figures. In most cases, these estimates are based on an average of the preceding five year period (1981-1985).

Nutrient Data

Nutrient data have been provided in this publication since 1972. Over this ten year period, it became apparent that these data were not being widely used. As a result, nutrient data are no longer provided in this publication. However, Agriculture Canada has indicated that it will resume the publication of these data. Moreover, Agriculture Canada has also indicated it will maintain and update the data base which can be accessed from Statistics Canada's CANSIM Division.

Units of Measurement

Food consumption data in this publication have been provided in both imperial and metric units since 1972. On January 4, 1982, retail food outlets in Canada's major urban centres converted to the metric system of measurement. Consequently, since users of the food consumption data have had several years to adapt to the metric system and a large portion of the retail food industry is now functioning in the metric system, food consumption data in this publication will henceforth be published solely in metric units. The following factors were used to convert from imperial to metric units:

Les valeurs par personne ne représentent pas les ressources alimentaires totales effectivement consommées par une personne ou par un groupe de personnes en particulier, mais constituent des données sur ce qui est disponible à la consommation en moyenne pour la population totale du Canada au 1<sup>er</sup> juillet. Les chiffres de population utilisés ici sont 25,380,000 pour 1985 et 25,354,000 pour 1986.

La mesure des valeurs par personne des poids de détails sous d'autres formes telles que le contenu en sucre, le poids de l'équivalent en produits frais et la teneur en matières solides du lait comporte l'utilisation de facteurs moyens de conversion.

Les données de 1986 doivent être considérées comme préliminaires et sujettes à révision. Habituellement, on établit des estimations lorsque les données ne sont pas prêtes en temps pour figurer dans la présente publication ou qu'on en a besoin pour compléter les chiffres sur la consommation apparente d'aliments par habitant. Dans la plupart des cas, ces estimations sont fondées sur la moyenne de la période quinquennale précédente (1981-1985).

Données sur les éléments nutritifs

Des données sur les éléments nutritifs paraissent dans la présente publication depuis 1972. Depuis lors, il est devenu évident que ces données ne servent pas beaucoup. C'est pourquoi la publication ne contient plus de données à ce sujet. Agriculture Canada a cependant fait connaître son intention de publier ces données. En outre, Agriculture Canada mettra et tiendra à jour la base de données à laquelle on peut avoir accès grâce à la Division CANSIM de Statistique Canada.

Unités de mesure

Des données sur la consommation d'aliments paraissent dans la présente publication en unités impériales et métriques depuis 1972. Le 4 janvier 1982, les points de vente au détail d'aliments dans les principaux centres urbains du Canada ont adopté le système métrique. Par conséquent, comme les utilisateurs des données sur la consommation d'aliments ont disposé de plusieurs années pour s'adapter à la conversion au système métrique et qu'une grande partie du secteur de vente au détail des aliments a adopté le système métrique, les données sur la consommation d'aliments figurant dans la présente publication paraîtront désormais uniquement en unités métriques. Les facteurs suivants ont servi à convertir les unités impériales en unités métriques:

ounces to grams - 1 oz. = 1,000 + (16 x
2.204 622 621 8 g)

pounds to kilograms - 1 lb. = 1 + 2.204 622 621 8 kg

pounds to metric tonnes - 1 lb. = 1 +
2 204.622 621 8 t

fluid ounces to millilitres - 1 fl. oz. =
4.546 090 x 1,000 + 160 mL

gallons to kilolitres - 1 gal. = 4.546 090 +
1,000 kL.

Historic Data and Data Bases

Current and historic data (from 1960) contained in this publication are also available on Statistics Canada's CANSIM (Cross Classified) machine readable data base. Users accessing this data base are advised to verify all "Broadcast" or "Status" messages before retrieving data. The primary reasons are: changes in reported units, revised and more up-to-date conversion factors as well as changes in product mix/definition.

Since all data are now shown in metric units, the food consumption data base, 1960-1981, has also been converted to metric units. This should provide users with consistent units for any time series analysis.

onces en grammes - 1 oz = 1,000 + (16 x
2.204 622 621 8 g)

livres en kilogrammes - 1 liv = 1 +

livres en tonnes métriques - 1 liv = 1 +
2 204.622 621 8 t

onces fluides en millilitres - 1 oz fl =

Données et bases de données chronologiques

Les données courantes et chronologiques (à partir de 1960) qui se trouvent dans la présente publication figurent également dans la base de données ordinolingues CANSIM (à classement recoupé) de Statistique Canada. Les utilisateurs qui ont accès à cette base de données sont priés de vérifier tous les messages "Broadcast" ou "Status" avant d'extraire les données. En voici les principales raisons: modification des unités déclarées, révision et mise à jour des facteurs de conversion et modification de la définition des composés des produits.

Comme toutes les données figurent maintenant en unités métriques, la base de données sur la consommation d'aliments, de 1960 à 1981, a été convertie en unités métriques. Les utilisateurs pourront ainsi disposer d'unités uniformes pour l'analyse de n'importe quelle série chronologique.
