LOCATION AND CAPACITY OF
FLOUR AND FEED MILLS IN CANADA
1937

The location and capacity of the flour and feed mills of Canada are given in the following pages of this report. The list covers 412 flour mills with a total 24-hour capacity of 103,762 barrels and 894 feed mills. Ontario is the leading province in this industry. Thirty-four per cent of the flour mills, sixty-two per cent of the feed mills and forty-eight per cent of the flour milling capacity in Canada are located in Ontario. Quebec ranks second as far as the number of flour and feed mills is concerned, but in flour milling capacity Saskatchewan is second to Ontario, followed by Quebec, Alberta and Manitoba. The Maritime Provinces and British Columbia have a small flour milling capacity.

In the years from 1931, the number of mills in Canada decreased from 1,677 in 1931 to 1,306 in the current year. Declines in the number of mills and in the milling capacity were general in most provinces between 1931 and 1932, with a gradual rise in numbers commencing in 1934 and continuing in the two subsequent years. The decided reduction numbering 233 mills in 1937, comprising 31 flour mills and 202 feed mills, is accounted for in most part by small feed mills that were dropped from the industry because they were dismantled, burned or associated with the saw mill industry. Capacity reduction, amounting to 1,484 barrels, chiefly concerns small flour mills removed from the list or at present doing only a custom chopping trade until conditions warrant putting the flour machinery in operation.

In the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia, number and capacity of mills are at approximately the same level as in the list issued a year ago. In the province of Saskatchewan mills located in the centres with crop failures have been included and as far as possible they have been marked accordingly.

The total capacity of the flour mills in Canada includes milling machinery in active use and also some which may be idle at the time or withdrawn from use for a more extended period. Some large mills may be closed entirely or have certain units of the machinery covered and idle. Small mills are not built in units and, therefore, must be either active or idle. Their operations may be seasonal or continuous, but there is usually a post-harvest rush in custom mills and the highest percentage of Canadian milling capacity is in operation during the fall and early winter months.

In all cases, capacity is shown in terms of 24-hour operation, but a plant may run only a day shift or perhaps full time with one out of two equal-sized units closed and thus be operating at half its total capacity.

These reservations should be kept in mind when studying the capacity of Canadian flour mills.
