LOCATION AND CAPACITY OF FLOUR MILLS IN CANADA

1 9 3 9

The location and capacity of the flour and feed mills of Canada are given in the following pages of this report. The list covers 385 flour mills with a total 24-hour capacity of 100,516 barrels and 952 feed mills. Ontario is the leading province in this industry. Thirty-five per cent of the flour mills, fifty-eight per cent of the feed mills and forty-six per cent of the flour milling capacity in Canada are located in Ontario. Quebec ranks second as far as the number of flour and feed mills is concerned, but in flour milling capacity Saskatchewan is second to Ontario, followed by Quebec, Alberta and Manitoba. The Maritime Provinces and British Columbia have a small flour milling capacity.

Canada's flour mills experienced a numerical reduction of 16 and a capacity reduction of 2,476 barrels in the last year. Feed mills gained nine in number, Quebec accounting for seven of this slight gain.

The Prairie Provinces show only minor changes in milling conditions since the publication of last year. Some mills in the drought areas of the province of Saskatchewan have not been able to resume operations. Four of these have been dropped from the printed list of this year while a few others have been included as idle in view of a possibility of re-opening under the more favourable milling conditions anticipated in the months ahead.

The total capacity of the flour mills in Canada includes milling machinery in active use and also some which may be idle at the time or withdrawn from use for a more extended period. Some large mills may be closed entirely or have certain units of the machinery covered and idle. Small mills are not built in units and, therefore, must be either active or idle. Their operations may be seasonal or continuous, but there is usually a post-harvest rush in custom mills and the highest percentage of Canadian milling capacity is in operation during the fall and early winter months.

In all cases, capacity is shown in terms of 24-hour operations, but a plant may run only a day shift or perhaps full time with one out of two equal-sized units closed and thus be operating at half its total capacity.

These reservations should be kept in mind when studying the capacity of Canadian flour mills.
