LOCATION AND CAPACITY OF FLOUR AND FEED MILLS IN CANADA

1 9 4 1

The location and capacity of the flour and feed mills of Canada are given in the following pages of this report. The list covers 346 flour mills with a total 24-hour capacity of 95,566 barrels and 978 feed mills. Ontario is the leading province in this industry. Thirty-two per cent of the flour mills, sixty-one per cent of the feed mills and forty-seven per cent of the flour milling capacity in Canada are located in Ontario. Quebec ranks second as far as the number of flour and feed mills is concerned, but in flour milling capacity Saskatchewan is second to Ontario, followed by Alberta, Quebec and Manitoba. The Maritime Provinces and British Columbia have a small flour milling capacity.

Canada's flour mills experienced a numerical reduction of 22 and a capacity reduction of 2,987 barrels in the last year. Feed mills gained fifty-three in number, Ontario accounting for thirty-nine of this gain.

Minor changes in the Prairie Provinces since the publication of last year occurred chiefly in Alberta, which showed the addition of five small flour mills and eleven feed mills. The province of British Columbia suffered a capacity reduction of 600-barrels with the closing of its principal flour mill.

The total capacity of the flour mills in Canada includes milling machinery in active use and also some which may be idle at the time or withdrawn from use for a more extended period. Some large mills may be closed entirely or have certain units of the machinery covered and idle. Small mills are not built in units and, therefore, must be either active or idle. Their operations may be seasonal or continuous, with a tendency in normal years to a post-harvest rush in customs mills and a higher percentage of Canadian milling capacity in operation during the fall and early winter months. Since the outbreak of war, however, milling operations have tended to remain at a steadier level throughout the year.

In all cases, capacity is shown in terms of 24-hour operations, but a plant may run only a day shift or perhaps full time with one out of two equal-sized units closed and thus be operating at half its total capacity.

These reservations should be kept in mind when studying the capacity of Canadian flour mills.
