1. Introduction

This annual report describes how the Northern Pipeline Agency (NPA) met its responsibilities in administering the Access to Information Act (Act) during fiscal year 2018-2019.

The Access to Information Act

The Access to Information Act was proclaimed into force on July 1, 1983. The Act gives Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and any person and corporation present in Canada a right of access to information contained within government records, subject to specific and limited exceptions.

Section 72 of the Access to Information Act requires that the head of every government institution prepare for submission to parliament an annual report on the administration of the Act during the financial year 2018-2019.

Northern Pipeline Agency

Description

The NPA was created with the proclamation of the Northern Pipeline Act in April 1978 to oversee planning and construction of the Canadian portion of the Alaska Highway Gas Pipeline Project by the Foothills Group of Companies. The Minister of Natural Resources is responsible for the Northern Pipeline Act, and for the management and direction of the NPA and reporting to Parliament on its activities. The Deputy Minister of Natural Resources serves as the Commissioner of the NPA.

Mandate

The NPA mandate is twofold. First, it carries out Government of Canada responsibilities in relation to the pipeline and facilitates the efficient and expeditious planning and construction of the pipeline, taking into account local and regional interests, in particular those of Indigenous peoples. Secondly, it maximizes the social and economic benefits from the construction and operation of the pipeline while at the same time minimizing any adverse effect on the social and environmental conditions of the areas most directly affected by the pipeline.

The NPA acts as a single window between federal authorities and the Foothills Group of Companies (now owned completely by TransCanada Pipelines Limited), and between provincial and territorial governments, and the Government of the United States. In keeping with the Northern Pipeline Act, many regulatory powers of other Government of Canada departments and agencies related to the pipeline project are delegated to the NPA. This is not the case for those powers reserved exclusively to the National Energy Board or shared between the National Energy Board and the NPA.

2. Organizational Structure

Access to information-related activities for the NPA, such as the processing of requests under the Access to Information Act, are handled by Natural Resources Canada's (NRCan) Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Secretariat, as per the NRCan-NPA Service Letter of Agreement.

3. Delegation Order

See annex A for current delegation order.

4. Highlights of the Statistical Report, 2018-2019

During the current reporting period, NPA received no request under the Access to Information Act. During the 2017-2018 reporting period, NPA had received one request, representing an 80% decrease from the 2016-2017 reporting period. In all cases, request were responded to within the legislative timelines.

The statistical report is attached as Annex B.
