Guidelines and general information

1. The CCOFTA may be found on the Global Affairs Canada website.
2. Chapter Three: Rules of Origin of the CCOFTA contains the general rules of origin that set out the criteria to determine the originating status of a good, as well as other general conditions and requirements.
3. Annex 301: Specific Rules of Origin of the CCOFTA sets out the product specific rules of origin that establish the point at which materials or components have undergone sufficient production within the free trade area for the good produced to be considered originating.
4. Article 317: Short Supply of the Rules of Origin Chapter allows Canada and Colombia to agree that certain textile inputs are not available from domestic producers in commercial quantities in both Canada and Colombia. Textile yarns and fabrics that are agreed to be in short supply can be imported from outside Canada or Colombia and used by Canadian or Colombian producers to make originating textile or apparel goods that would be eligible to benefit from preferential tariff treatment under the agreement when that textile or apparel good is exported to the other Party.
5. Canada and Colombia have established a short supply list under the CCOFTA, effective January 10, 2020. Both countries also agreed to procedures to guide the administration of the short supply process.
