About this report

This report provides information on the administration of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act (SRBA) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2020. It includes account transaction statements and statistics on benefits, contributions and membership.

The report is tabled in Parliament each year, in accordance with section 12 of the SRBA.

About the act

The SRBA applies to pension benefits payable to federal judges under the Judges Act, as well as to pension benefits payable under other statutes listed in Schedule I of the SRBA, such as the Diplomatic Service (Special) Superannuation Act, the Lieutenant Governors Superannuation Act, the Defence Services Pension Continuation Act of the Canadian Armed Forces, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Pension Continuation Act, and Part VI of the Members of Parliament Retiring Allowances Act.

The SRBA, along with the relevant pension statutes, governs the benefit index of the major federal public sector pension plans, including plans governed by the Public Service Superannuation Act, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Act, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Act and the Members of Parliament Retiring Allowances Act.

Membership demographics

Active contributors	1,234
Retired members and survivors	1,283
Total membership	2,517

Funding

Between April 1, 1970, and December 31, 1976, members contributed 0.5% of their pensionable salary to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account. Effective January 1, 1977, this rate was increased to 1%.

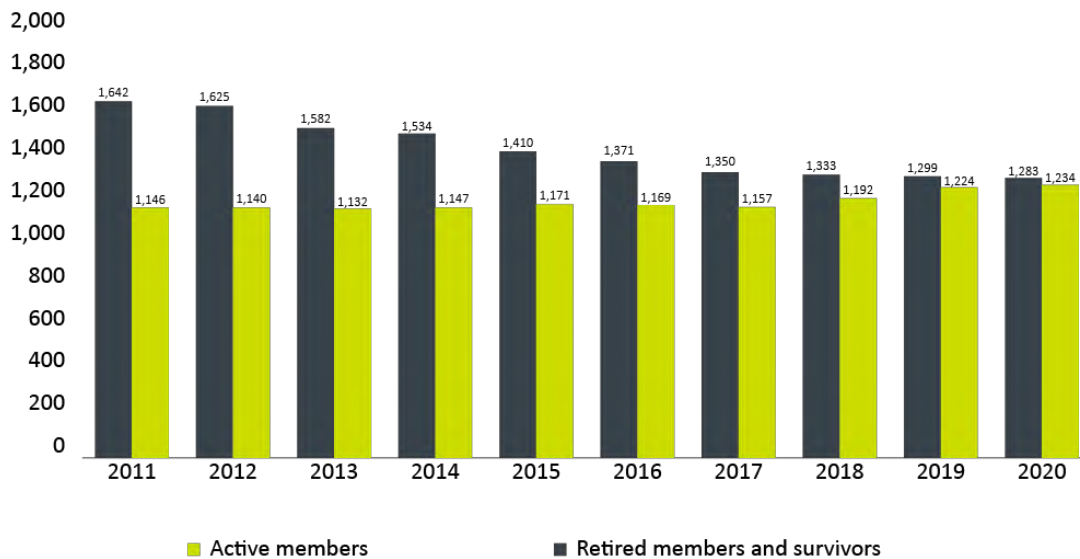

The Government of Canada, as the employer, matches plan members' contributions.

Interest on the account is payable at the end of each quarter. It is calculated monthly on the minimum balance in the account at an interest rate that represents the yield on outstanding Government of Canada bonds that have a term to maturity of 5 years, reduced by 0.125%.
