

Canada in a Changing Climate: National Issues Report

INTERNATIONAL DIMENSIONS

This chapter examines how climate change is affecting connections between Canada and the rest of the world, such as trade, transboundary issues and human migration.

Climate change affects Arctic shipping and threatens sovereignty

Transboundary marine and freshwater agreements generally do not consider climate change

Climate change presents risks and opportunities for international trade

Climate-related human migration and displacement will increase demands for immigration to Canada

Increased demand for international assistance is expected

Explore the International Dimensions chapter, one of nine chapters from the Canada in a Changing Climate: National Issues Report of the national knowledge assessment on climate change impacts and adaptation, by visiting this link:

ChangingClimate.ca/National-Issues/chapter/9-0/

#ChangingClimate

Government of Canada

Gouvernement
du Canada

Canada