Women in the Workplace

This publication provides an historical compendium of data useful for analysis of the increasing participation of women in the labour force and associated trends. Sections on employment, unemployment, occupation, income and earnings, presented for Canada and the provinces, cross-classified by variables such as age and sex in many cases, allow comparisons with corresponding data for men. A selection of graphics illustrates major changes experienced over the last 10 years.

Order Women in the Workplace - Selected Data (71-534, $20), now available. Contact Jack Scott (613-991-2556), Housing, Family and Social Statistics Division.
