MAJOR RELEASES

International Travel Account

Second Quarter 1991 (Preliminary Estimates)

Highlights

Unadjusted

- Canada's international travel account registered a deficit of $1,537 million during the second quarter of 1991 compared with $1,352 million in the second quarter of 1990. The travel balance deteriorated with the United States, reaching the largest amount ever for the period. However, the deficit improved with all other countries, achieving the smallest second-quarter level in nine years.
- The increased deficit with the United States came from a marked rise in automobile travel by Canadian residents. The improvement in the balance with countries other than the United States was the result of a pronounced decrease in the number of visits to those countries by Canadian residents.
- Receipts from the United States increased by 4.2%, representing the best performance for a second quarter in five years. Receipts from countries other than the United States registered an increase of 2.1% compared with the same period of 1990, the smallest second-quarter rise since 1984.
- Expenditures abroad by Canadian residents increased 7.6% compared with the second quarter of 1990. This rise reflects an increase of 16.1% in payments to the United States which was partially offset by a decrease of 11.1% in expenditures to all other countries.

Seasonally Adjusted

- International travel transactions produced a deficit of $1.4 billion during the second quarter of 1991, compared to $1.2 billion the preceding quarter, returning to the high deficit attained during the fourth quarter of 1990. The balance deterioration during this quarter came from a large increase in Canadian foreign expenditures, particularly with the United States, while receipts from non-residents remained stagnant.

Travel Account Balance (seasonally adjusted)

- Receipts from the United States increased 0.9% compared with the preceding quarter, while receipts from other countries decreased 0.5% in the second quarter of 1991.
- Expenditures of Canadian residents to the United States increased at a higher rate (8.3%) than payments to other countries (2.6%) compared with the previous quarter.

The April-June issue of Travel Between Canada and Other Countries (66-001, $38.50/$154) will be available in September. See "How to Order Publications".

Wholesale Trade

June 1991

Highlights

Seasonally Adjusted Sales

- Preliminary estimates indicate that wholesale merchants' sales were $14.9 billion in June. This represents an increase of 0.9% over the revised May sales. On a year-over-year basis, sales levels were down 1.6%; however, after removing the effect of the change in indirect taxes, there was an increase of approximately 3.0%.
- Sales were higher for the fifth consecutive month, led by wholesalers of other machinery, equipment and supplies.
- In contrast to recent months when growth was widespread, only three of the nine trade groups registered higher sales in June. The overall increase was attributable, in order of dollar impact, to gains reported by wholesalers of other machinery, equipment and supplies (+2.2%), suppliers of food, beverage, drug and tobacco products (+2.0%) and wholesalers of metals, hardware, plumbing and heating equipment (+5.8%).
- Regionally, higher sales were recorded in six provinces and territories, ranging from +7.5% in New Brunswick to +1.1% in Ontario.

Note to Users

Data collected and published for 1991 exclude provincial sales taxes and the Goods and Services Tax. Prior to January 1991, data included the Federal Sales Tax except for wholesalers which were licensed. Due to this change in indirect taxes, data for 1991 are not comparable with those of previous years.

Seasonally Adjusted Inventories

- In June, wholesale merchants' inventories were $23.6 billion, 1.1% lower than those of the previous month. This represents the first decrease in five months.
- The ratio of inventories-to-sales at the end of June was 1.58:1, down from 1.61:1 recorded in May.

Available on CANSIM: matrices 649 (sales, seasonally adjusted), 648 (sales, not seasonally adjusted), 61 (inventories, seasonally adjusted) and 59 (inventories, not seasonally adjusted).

The June issue of Wholesale Trade (63-008, $14.40/$144) will be available the second week of September. See "How to Order Publications".

Department Store Sales and Stocks

June 1991

Highlights

Seasonally Adjusted Data

- Department store sales (including concessions) totalled $1,089 million in June 1991, unchanged from the previous month's revised estimate.
- Department store sales have fluctuated markedly during 1991. Sales increased 2.4% in the second quarter compared to a sharp decline of 7.6% (after adjustment for tax changes) in the first quarter of 1991.
- Department store stocks (at selling value) totalled $5,063 million at the end of June, an increase of 1.3% over the May 1991 revised value of $4,997 million. This gain constituted the fifth consecutive monthly increase.

Note to Users

Department store sales estimates exclude the Goods and Services Tax (GST). Prior to January 1991, sales data included the Federal Sales Tax (FST). Due to this change in indirect taxes, data for 1991 are not strictly comparable with those of previous years. For users interested in deriving comparable data, an estimate of the amount of FST included in department store sales for 1990 is available for Canada.

- The ratio of stocks-to-sales stood at 4.65:1 in June, an increase over the 4.59:1 ratio observed in May.

Available on CANSIM: matrix 112, levels 1-3, series 4, 5, 6.

Weapons and Violent Crime

Highlights

- Based on police-reported data, between 1975 and 1989 the violent crime rate in Canada increased by 59%, from 597 to 948 incidents per 100,000 population. All categories of violent crime except homicide showed increased rates.
- During this same period, however, Canada experienced a decline in the use of firearms in homicide and robbery incidents. Between 1975 and 1989, the number of homicides involving firearms decreased 25%, from 292 incidents to 218 incidents. Similarly, the number of robberies involving firearms decreased 28%, from 8,962 to 6,441 incidents.
- Declines in the use of firearms in homicides and robberies have also been observed in the United States. However, the declines in the United States have been more varied, and the overall decline smaller than in Canada. Between 1975 and 1989, the firearm homicide rate in Canada declined 38%, from 1.3 to 0.8 per 100,000 population, whereas the United States rate declined 7%, from 5.8 to 5.4. The firearm robbery rate declined 36% in Canada, from 39 to 25, whereas the United States rate declined 21%, from 98 to 77.
- An analysis of data from 10 police departments reporting detailed incident-based information shows that 18% of violent crime victims were confronted by armed assailants. Five percent encountered firearms, and, of these, the largest proportion (45%) encountered handguns, while 26% encountered hunting rifles or shotguns. Fatal injuries were sustained by 1% and major physical injuries by 6% of all violent crime victims.

Don't start your week without it

Get a jump on your work week by making sure you have the most current economic and social information in Canada. Travelling by first class mail or courier,

Statistics Canada's digest, Infomat, arrives at the beginning of each week to help you monitor key economic indicators and keep up with the most current data releases from Canada's national statistical agency.

In eight fact-filled pages, Infomat highlights the findings of Statistics Canada surveys and brings them to your desk each week, often long before detailed reports are published. Throughout the year you'll get the first results of over 100 ongoing surveys and many special surveys—from manufacturing shipments to the health of Canadians or post graduate employment to part-time workers.

Each week, Infomat presents you with,

- concise summaries of fresh facts from over 100 ongoing surveys
- charts and graphs that let you instantly scan the trends
- Overview - an outline of the subjects covered in each issue that you can scan in 30 seconds
- guidance on how to obtain special reports to assist you in your more detailed research.
- Current Trends and Latest Monthly Statistics sections that bring you up to date on the Consumer Price Index, Gross Domestic Product and 21 other key monthly series

Managers, analysts and researchers who are responsible for keeping up to date on changes in Canada's economic and social climate can count on Infomat — as a quick overview of the latest trends and as a weekly reminder of key indicators and data releases. Many subscribers use Infomat's highlights to add authority to their industry analyses, investment plans or corporate reports.

To order Infomat (11-002E), 50 issues annually for $125 in Canada, US$150 in the U.S. and US$175 in other countries, write to Publications Sales and Service, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Canada, K1A 0T6. For faster service, use your VISA or MasterCard and call toll-free in Canada, 1-800-267-6677.
