Minister's message

On behalf of Innovation Science and Economic Development Canada (ISED), I am pleased to present our report on fees for 2022–23.

The Service Fees Act provides a modern legislative framework that enables cost-effective delivery of services and, through better reporting to Parliament, improves transparency and oversight.

This year's report provides information about ISED's fee charging programs, including, a list of their fees, details on the fee-setting authorities, fee service standards, performance results, remissions, and anticipated increases. This information provides context for each of the fee charging programs in the spirit of open and transparent fee management.

ISED is reporting total revenues in excess of $695 millions for 2022–23 which have decreased from last year due to revenue generated from spectrum licenses auctions for $8.9B that have not been repeated this year. Excluding auction revenues, the total revenue is $592M. ISED is reporting on a total of 539 fees, which represents an increase of six fees from the previous year following changes to patent rules.

As the implementation of the Service Fees Act continues, I expect Canadians and Canadian businesses will benefit from increased transparency, accountability and predictability in the management of fees charged by ISED.

The Honourable François-Philippe Champagne, P.C., M.P.
Minister of Innovation, Science and Industry

About this report

This report, which is tabled under section 20 of the Service Fees Act, the Low-Materiality Fees Regulations, and subsection 4.2.8 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities, contains information about the fees Innovation, Science and Economic Development Canada (ISED) had the authority to set in fiscal year 2022–23.

The report covers fees that are subject to the Service Fees Act and exempted from the Service Fees Act.

For reporting purposes, fees are categorized by fee-setting mechanism. There are three mechanisms:

1. Act, regulation or fees notice
The authority to set these fees is delegated to a department, minister or Governor in Council pursuant to an act of Parliament.
2. Contract
Ministers have the inherent authority to enter into contracts, which are usually negotiated between the minister and an individual or organization, and which cover fees and other terms and conditions. In some cases, that authority may also be provided by an act of Parliament.
3. Market rate or auction
The authority to set these fees is pursuant to an act of Parliament or a regulation, and the minister, department or Governor in Council has no control over the fee amount.

For fees set by act, regulation or fees notice, the report provides totals for fee groupings, as well as detailed information for each fee. For fees set by contract and fees set by market rate or auction, the report provides totals only.

Although the fees ISED charges under the Access to Information Act were subject to the Service Fees Act, they are not included in this report. Information on ISED's access to information fees for 2022–23 is in our annual report to Parliament on the administration of the Access to Information Act which is posted on ISED Access to Information and Privacy References Pages<sup>1</sup>.

Remissions

In 2022–23, Innovation, Science and Economic Development Canada was subject to the requirements to issue remissions under section 7 of the Service Fees Act and subsection 4.2.4 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities to remit a fee, in whole or in part, to a fee payer when a service standard was not met. ISED's remission policy and procedures, pursuant to the Service Fees Act, are on the following web page: Service Fees Remission Policy<sup>ii</sup>.

The other sections of this report provide detailed amounts for ISED's remissions for 2022–23.
