REGISTRATION PILOT

The governments of Canada, Newfoundland and Labrador, Nova Scotia, and Ontario are working together, on a pilot basis, to simplify the filing process for federal corporations.

Federal corporations in the three provinces can take advantage of new on-line filing options, giving them single-window access to both federal and provincial forms.

The new options, offered by the Electronic Filing Centre of Industry Canada's Corporations Directorate, will save businesses time and cut back their paperwork.

- Incorporating federally? Businesses filing federal incorporation forms on-line can use the new single-window service to access extra-provincial registration forms at the same time.
- Filing annual returns? Businesses can complete both federal returns and provincial returns on-line, if they are required.

The new partnership between the Government of Canada and the three participating provinces complements the extensive on-line services provided by the Corporations Directorate's Electronic Filing Centre.
