Introduction

The Privacy Act (PA – the Act) gives Canadians the broad legal right to access and correct their personal information contained in federal government records. The Act also places limits on the collection, use and disclosure of personal information.

The Act provides government institutions with 30 days to respond to personal information requests. Additional time may be granted if there are many records to examine, other government agencies to be consulted, or documents to be translated. Access rights are subject to specific and limited exemptions.

This annual report to Parliament is submitted by the Public Sector Integrity Commissioner (the Commissioner) pursuant to section 72 of the PA. On April 15, 2007, the Public Servants Disclosure Protection Act (PSDPA) came into force. It created the Office of the Public Sector Integrity Commissioner of Canada (the Office). The new legislation replaced the Treasury Board Policy on the Internal Disclosure of Information Concerning Wrongdoing in the Workplace.

The Office is mandated to establish a safe, independent and confidential process for public servants and members of the public to disclose potential wrongdoing in the federal public sector. The Office also helps to protect from reprisal public servants who have filed disclosures or participated in related investigations.

The Commissioner is an independent Agent of Parliament.

Description of the institution's structure

The Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Coordinator is the only employee dedicated, on a part-time basis, to fulfil the Privacy Act responsibilities. The Coordinator is assisted by a contractor for the processing of the requests, for training and education, and for reporting activities.

Delegation

The Commissioner, as the head of the government institution, has designated, pursuant to section 73 of the PA, the persons holding the positions set out in the delegation order, or the persons occupying on an acting basis those positions, to exercise the powers, duties or functions of the Commissioner as specified therein. A copy of the delegation order is included in Appendix A.

Interpretation of the annual statistical report

Appendix B provides a statistical report on the PA applications processed by the Office between April 1, 2022 and March 31, 2023.

No formal request was received and closed during this reporting period.

No requests for the correction of personal information or for the production of annotations were received.

No consultations were received from other federal government institutions including on Cabinet Confidences.

Minimal resources were required to be spent by the Office administering the PA.

Table 1 – Five-year trend of privacy requests

*Total requests processed include any requests carried over from previous reporting periods.

Interpretation of the supplemental statistical report

Appendix C provides a statistical report on the COVID-19 measures applied by the Office between April 1, 2022 and March 31, 2023.

Education and training activities

No formal briefing session covering the notions of personal information and of privacy breach was delivered to PSIC employees as a group during this reporting period. However, advice was provided on an individual basis as required.

Overview of new or revised institutional policies and procedures

No new or revised institutional policies or procedures were implemented during this reporting period which would have had an impact on privacy.

Key issues relating to privacy complaints and/or investigations

No complaints were received from the Office of the Privacy Commissioner during this reporting period.

Time monitoring for processing privacy requests

Though no formal time monitoring was conducted during this reporting period, the Office uses a case management system to track processing times regarding privacy requests. This tool assists the Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator and the contractor dedicated to this function in monitoring timelines to ensure compliancy with legislated deadlines.

Material privacy breaches

No serious material privacy breaches took place during this reporting period.

Privacy Impact Assessments

No Privacy Impact Assessments (PIA) were completed during this reporting period.

Personal information disclosed pursuant to 8(2) and 8(5) of the *Privacy Act

No disclosures were made under sections 8(2) and 8(5) of the PA during this reporting period.
