

Figure 5. A drumlin field with complex forms converges westward, west of Albert Edward Bay; streamlined uplands show eroded exposed rock (R) on the upflow side (east) and sediment ridges further downflow (west). The drumlin forms appear as waveform aggregates of en échelon forms (E). Google Earth image; red scale bar is ~1 km.