MONTHLY REVIEW OF BUSINESS STATISTICS

Vol. VII

OTTAWA, NOVEMBER, 1932

No. 11

DOMINION STATISTICIAN: R. H. COATS, B.A., F.S.S. (Hon.), F.R.S.C.

CHIEF, BRANCH OF GENERAL STATISTICS: S. A. CUDMORE, M.A., F.S.S.

ASSISTANT ON BUSINESS STATISTICS: SYDNEY B. SMITH, M.A.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION IN CANADA

While business operations in Canada, after adjustment for seasonal tendencies, were at a slightly lower level during October than in the preceding month, the relative stability of the current period presents a strong contrast with the marked declines in the same months of 1930 and 1931. Industrial activity is now at a lower level than in either of the two preceding years, but the pronounced downward trend has been replaced by a period in which greater resistance is manifested against reactionary tendencies.

The business index was 75.3 in October compared with 77.1 in September, but the drop only counterbalanced the gain of the spring and summer, leaving the index in the same position as in April last.

Mineral Production

A favourable development was the gain in mineral production. Eight factors used in this connection showed general increases. Exports of copper and nickel recorded marked gains. Zinc spelter was exported to the extent of 14,646,700 pounds in October compared with 14,530,000 pounds in the preceding month. Shipments of gold and silver were greater than in September. Exports of the better grades of asbestos were 5,707 tons compared with 3,834 tons. Imports of bauxite for the manufacture of aluminium showed a gain after seasonal adjustment. The output of coal was 1,229,167 tons compared with 914,467 tons in September, a gain, after seasonal adjustment, of 10 p.c.

The index of mineral production was 99.3 in October compared with 89.5 in the preceding month.

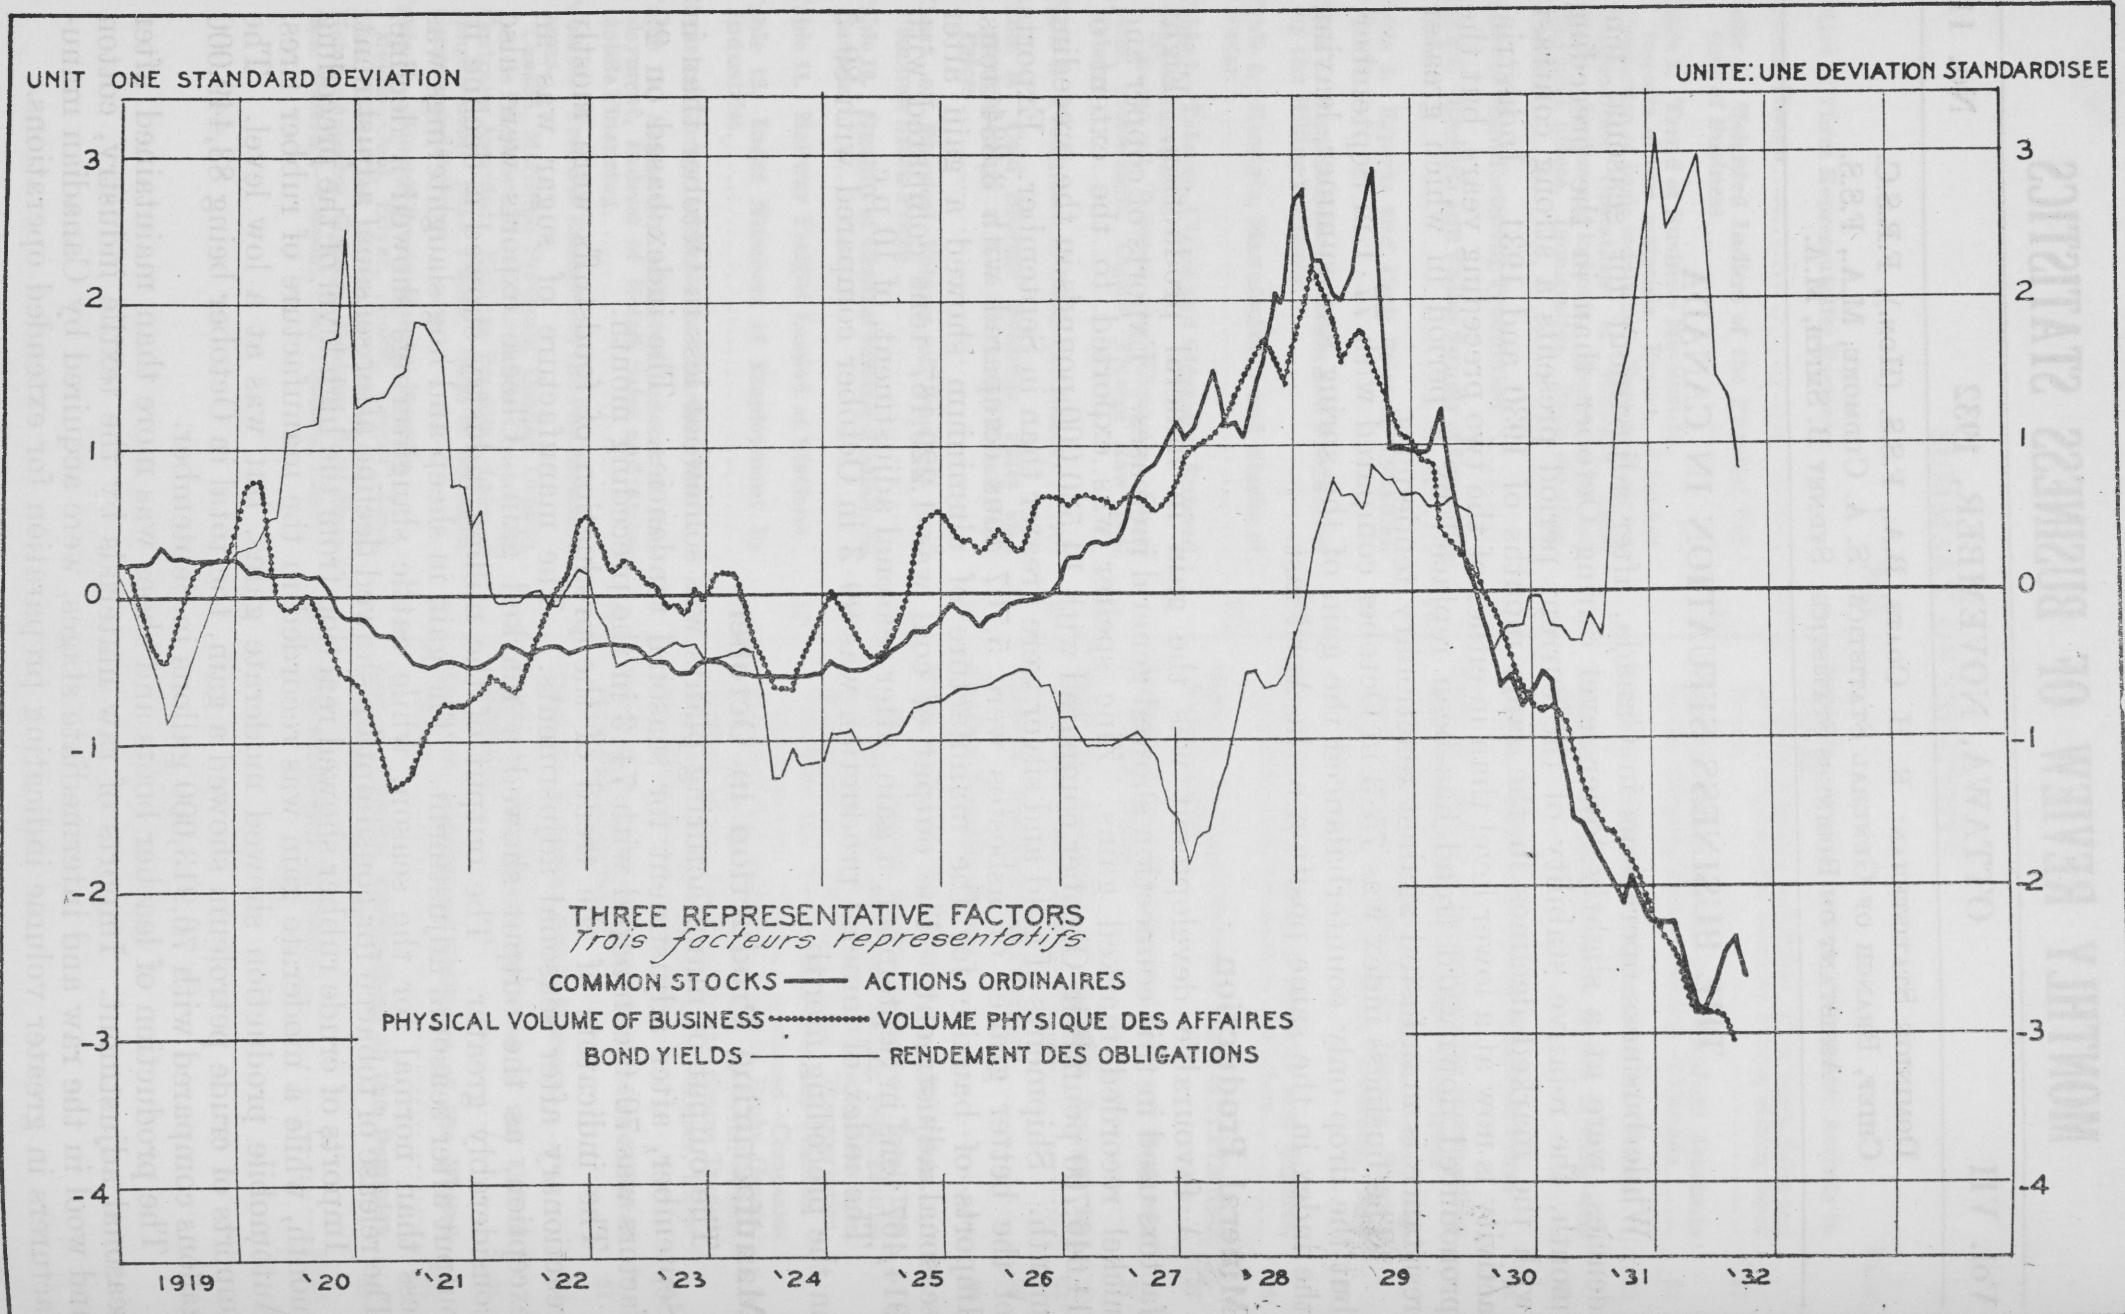

Manufacturing Production in October

The output of manufacturing plants was somewhat less in October than in September, after adjustment for seasonal tendencies. The index based on 29 factors was 70.6 compared with 74.3 in the preceding month.

The indicators of the trend of the production of foodstuffs were mostly reactionary after seasonal adjustments. The manufacture of sugar was an exception, as the output showed a marked gain. Cheese exports were also considerably greater. The output of the milling industry showed a decline in output after seasonal adjustment. The gain in sheep and hog slaughterings was less than normal for the season, while cattle slaughterings showed a decline. The release of tobacco for consumption showed decline after seasonal adjustment.

Imports of crude rubber showed reaction from the high level of the preceding month, while a moderate gain was recorded in the manufacture of rubber tires. Automobile production showed moderate gains, but was at a low level. The imports of crude petroleum showed a gain, the total in October being 83,449,000 gallons compared with 76,913,000 gallons in September.

The production of leather boots and shoes was more than maintained after seasonal adjustment. Imports of raw materials by the textile industry, cotton and wool in the raw and intermediate stages, were acquired by Canadian manufacturers in greater volume indicating preparation for extended operations.

The gain in the output of newsprint was less than normal for the season. Gains were recorded in the export of wood-pulp, planks, boards and shingles. Production of steel ingots was at a low point, amounting to 17,102 tons. A slight gain was shown by pig iron and imports of iron and steel products, reduced to a volume basis by the elimination of the price factor, showed a gain.

Construction

The new business obtained in the construction industry was not greatly altered in October, after adjustment was made for seasonal tendencies. Building permits at $3,056,000 showed a gain over the preceding month, while the award of construction contracts was at a lower level.

The gain in the output and distribution of the central electric stations was less than normal for the season. The average daily output was 44,843,000 k.w.h. compared with 42,638,000 in September. Carloadings, though influenced by a heavy grain movement, were less than in the preceding month, the total being 211,525 compared with 215,654. Exports amounting to $57,160,000 compared with $42,665,000 in September showed a gain slightly greater than normal for the season. Imports, after seasonal adjustment, have shown moderate gains for three months.

A reactionary development of the month was the decline in wholesale prices, the official index reaching a new low point at 65.0 compared with 66.9 in September. Declines in grain and newsprint were the main influences in the downward trend of the index.

Chief Economic Changes

A further advance in high-grade bond prices was the constructive feature of October. The decline in government bond yields tends to direct the attention of investors toward opportunities in business, resulting in a transfer of liquid funds to undertakings which will yield a greater return. The persistent decline in bond yields is regarded as a prerequisite to speculative and business recovery. After gains from July to September, common stock prices reacted during October and the physical volume of business remains at a low level in the current period. (See page 4.)

Manufacturing Production in the Post-War Period

The revised index of manufacturing production shows rapid expansion from the middle of 1921 to the early months of 1929. The subsequent reaction, severe as it has been, has not counterbalanced the extensive expansion of the nine active years. Much variation was shown between the trends of the principal components during the post-war period. The main factors in the expansion of the last prosperous period were newsprint and industries allied with the automobile industry, including automobile production and the rubber tire and petroleum-refining industries. Fluctuation in the iron and steel industry is mainly cyclical. The tendency in the food and textile industries is toward relative stability for the reason that food and clothing are necessities of life. The lumber industry, as reflected by the export of boards and planks, has shown contraction since 1926. While the flour, sugar, cotton and petroleum industries have been adversely affected by the depression of the last three years, the decline in operations has been relatively less than in most other lines. (See page 10.)

Relation of Common Stock Prices and Physical Volume of Business

A comparison of the trends of common stock prices and the physical volume of business reveals a close correlation. Indexes of these factors with the monthly average for 1926 as the base exhibit remarkable similarity during the post-war period. When unadjusted for the long term trend, the common stock index shows much greater fluctuation than the business index, but the trend was usually in the same direction. The indexes, after adjustment for the long-term trend and expression as multiples of the standard deviation, show a correlation to a much greater extent. An unexpected development is the close correspondence in timing as well as in direction. The general impression is that speculative factors normally precede general business movements by several months. During the period under review, the fluctuations of the two indexes were simultaneous to a marked extent. Referring to the unadjusted form of the indexes, the common stock compilation was much higher than the business index from 1927 to 1930, but the sharp decline in common stocks has placed the index of the physical volume of business in the ascendancy since the early months of 1931. (See page 15).

The Wheat Situation

Owing to the abundant crops of wheat harvested in Western and Southern Europe during the past summer, the demand on the continent has been light during recent months. Imports into Great Britain during August and September were limited to 32,781,000 bushels, compared with 52,296,000 bushels in the same months of 1931. From August 1 to October 31 of the present year, world shipments of wheat and wheat flour amounted to 173 million bushels. During about the same period, export clearances of Canadian wheat amounted to about 85 million bushels and in addition about 7 million bushels were exported in the form of flour, making total clearances of 92 million bushels or about 53 p.c. of the total world movement. It is not suggested that the foregoing situation will continue for the balance of the crop year. With the arrival of Southern Hemisphere crops in January, competition in the wheat market will be more severe and Canada will undoubtedly take a much smaller share of the world trade in wheat during the winter months.

Owing to the heavy export movement, total supplies of wheat in Canada available for export and carryover on October 31, 1932, was limited to 341,193,000 bushels compared with 266,686,000 on the same date of last year, an increase of only 78,522,000 bushels in spite of the fact that 1932 production is estimated to be 127 million bushels larger than in 1931.

Wholesale Prices

After several months of firmness, wholesale prices reacted in October reaching a new low point in post-war history. The official index compiled from 502 commodities was 65·0 in October compared with 66·9 in the preceding month or only 1½ per cent above the pre-war level of 1913. Declines were general among the main groups of the component material classification except for chemicals and allied products. Agricultural products, textiles, wood and paper and non-ferrous metals showed substantial decline from the levels of September.

The lowest price ever recorded during the 27-year history of the Winnipeg grain exchange was established on October 26, when No. 1 Northern cash wheat was quoted at 45 $\frac{7}{8}$ cents per bushel. Other grain prices were also decidedly lower than in September.

Subsequent to the termination of the revolution in Brazil, coffee prices on the New York market dropped sharply. Reaction in rubber prices wiped out about one-half of the gains made in the three preceding months following the record lows of June. Heavy runs of cattle, hogs and lambs at most major markets were partly responsible for lower prices in October. Butter quotations remained comparatively steady and advancing prices were general in Canadian egg markets. Owing to an increase in the crop estimate, cotton quotations declined further, averaging in New York 7·2 cents per pound in Canadian funds compared with 8·5 cents in September. Prices of Canadian newsprint dropped to a new all time low, the current price being $37.80 per ton f.o.b. mill.

Wholesale prices recorded an advance in many large commercial countries during September, gains being particularly marked in Great Britain and Germany and to a lesser extent in the United States. The groups contributing to the strength were animal products, metals, textiles, hides and skins.

Stocks and Bonds

A temporary high point was reached in the prices of common stocks in the week of September 8. During the early weeks of October, the reaction was considerable, followed by relative stability during the remainder of the month and early November. The official index of 122 stocks in the week of November 10 was 49·8 compared with 62·2 in the week of September 8. In the meantime, all groups of the classification showed declines.

The index of 22 preferred stocks was 46·7 in October compared with 48·3 in the preceding month.

High grade bonds made further gains in October, as indicated by the decline in yields on Ontario government bonds from 4·88 p.c. in September to 4·70 p.c. in October.

The index of 20 mining stocks was 57·5 in October compared with 60·9 in September, recessions being general for the three groups.

Collection of Revenue

The Department of National Revenue reports customs and excise revenue collected in October at $16,934,004 as compared with $18,547,521 in the same month of 1931. Totals for the first seven months of the fiscal year were $116,062,097 and $125,531,789, respectively. Declines in the yield from customs and excise duties were partly counterbalanced by increases in the yield of excise taxes. Further, income tax collected amounted to $1,284,898 in October and $52,872,510 in the seven months' period of 1932 as compared with $825,444 and $50,546,512 in the corresponding periods of 1931.

CONDITIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Industrial production in the United States was practically maintained in October after the considerable advance in August and September. The gain in recent months occurred mainly in textiles and slaughtering and meat-packing industries. The advance in bituminous coal mining was also a striking feature in October. The output of electric power after seasonal adjustment was down 1 p.c. in the month under review. Owing to restrictive measures, the output of crude petroleum was at a lower level. While the momentum of the gain of preceding months weakened during October, the production of iron and steel was moderately greater. New business obtained by the construction industry showed decline.

CONDITIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Following upon the larger conversion of the summer months, £300,000,000 of 3 p.c. stock has been issued successfully at 97½ to provide for repayments. At the issue price the yield to final redemption in 1953 is 3½ p.c., being about the lowest rate since the war. The conversions and new issues of the present year have reduced the interest burden on that part of the British debt which has been affected from £117,504,000 on June 30th last to £79,200,000 as at February 1, 1933, being a gross reduction of £38,304,000 in the burden of the British taxpayer, while the net gain, after allowing for the reduction in the yield of the income tax, will be about £30,000,000.

A total of new capital issues amounting to £19,745,000 was offered on the London market during October, following upon the removal of the ban on new capital issues at the end of September. This figure is the largest in any month since November, 1930.

The registered unemployed on October 24 numbered 2,747,006 or 111,005 less than on September 26. While the totally unemployed increased by 20,230, the number temporarily unemployed declined by 130,237.

British trade returns for October were fairly encouraging, the exports of British products reaching £30,440,000 and the re-exports £3,690,000—a total of £34,130,000 as compared with £60,820,000 of imports. The excess of imports was thus £26,690,000 as compared with £42,578,000 in the same month of 1931.

¹The indexes under this heading are for the purpose of measuring the trend from month to month of the volume of production and business in terms of physical units. The indexes are based on factors adjusted for seasonal tendencies and weighted according to prices prevailing in the base year of 1926, the aggregative method being used in compilation. In addition to the factors shown, the index for manufactures is compiled from oatmeal, rolled oats and corn flour production, cattle, sheep and hog slaughtering, cheese and canned salmon exports, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes released for consumption, pneumatic casings production, boot and shoe production, cotton yarn imports, exports of wood pulp and shingles, iron and steel imports and coke production.

REVUE MENSUELLE DE LA SITUATION ÉCONOMIQUE

Vol. VII

OTTAWA, NOVEMBRE, 1932

N° 11

STATISTICIEN DU DOMINION: R. H. COATS, B.A., F.S.S. (HON.), F.R.S.C.
CHEF DE LA SECTION DE LA STATISTIQUE GÉNÉRALE: S. A. CUDMORE, M.A., F.S.S.
ADJOINT (STATISTIQUES ÉCONOMIQUES): S. B. SMITH, M.A.

STATISTIQUE COURANTE DES AFFAIRES DU CANADA

Bien que les opérations au Canada, après rajustement pour tendance saisonnière, aient été à un niveau légèrement plus bas en octobre qu'en septembre, la stabilité relative de la période courante est en contraste frappant avec les déclins marqués des mêmes mois de 1930 et 1931. L'activité industrielle est actuellement à un plus bas niveau que dans l'une ou l'autre des deux années précédentes mais le mouvement de baisse a été remplacé par une tendance dans laquelle se manifeste une plus grande résistance à la réaction.

L'indice des affaires marquait 75·3 en octobre comparativement à 77·1 en septembre, mais cette baisse n'a que contrebalancé le gain du printemps et de l'été, laissant l'indice au même degré qu'en avril dernier.

Production minérale

Un gain dans la production minérale est un développement favorable. Chacun des huit facteurs dans ce groupe montrent des augmentations générales. Les exportations de cuivre et de nickel ont aussi augmenté. Il a été exporté 14,646,700 livres de zinc en octobre comparativement à 14,530,000 livres le mois précédent. Les expéditions d'or et d'argent ont été plus grandes qu'en septembre. Les exportations d'amiante des plus belles qualités ont été de 5,707 tonnes comparativement à 3,834 tonnes. Les importations de bauxite, pour la fabrication de l'aluminium donnent un gain, après rajustement saisonnier. La production de charbon, à 1,229,167 tonnes, se compare à 914,467 tonnes en septembre, un gain de 10 p.c. après rajustement saisonnier.

L'indice de la production minérale à 99·3 en octobre se compare à 89·5 le mois précédent.

Production manufacturière d'octobre

La production des manufactures a été un peu plus légère en octobre qu'en septembre, après rajustement pour tendance saisonnière. L'indice basé sur 29 facteurs marquait 70·6 comparativement à 74·3 le mois précédent.

Les indicateurs de l'orientation de la production alimentaire ont été plutôt réactionnaires après rajustement saisonnier. Les manufactures de sucre ont été une exception, leur production montrant un gain substantiel. Les exportations de fromage ont été sensiblement plus grandes. La production de l'industrie minotière montre un déclin après rajustement saisonnier. Le gain des abatages de moutons et porcs a été plus bas que normal pour la saison et les abatages de bêtes à cornes montrent un déclin. Les dédouanements de tabac pour consommation montrent aussi un déclin après rajustement saisonnier.

Les importations de caoutchouc brut montrent de la réaction du niveau du mois précédent mais il y a une augmentation modérée dans la fabrication de bandages en caoutchouc. La production d'automobiles a fait des gains tout en restant à bas niveau. Les importations de pétrole brut montrent un gain, le total d'octobre étant de 83,449,000 gallons comparativement à 76,913,000 gallons en septembre.

La production de chaussures en cuir s'est plus que maintenue après rajustement saisonnier. Les importations de matières brutes par les industries textiles de coton et de laine brute et de laine semi-ouvrée sont en plus grands volumes, indiquant que les manufacturiers canadiens se préparent à des opérations plus actives.

Le gain dans la production de papier a été moins que normal pour la saison. Les exportations de pulpe de bois, de madriers, de planches et de bardaques ont augmenté. La production d'acier en lingots a été à bas niveau, atteignant seulement 17,102 tonnes. Il y a un léger gain dans la production de fer en gueuses et dans les importations des produits du fer et de l'acier, si on met celles-ci sur une base de volume en éliminant le facteur des prix.

Construction

Les nouveaux engagements dans l'industrie de la construction n'ont guère changé en octobre, après rajustement pour tendance saisonnière. Les permis de bâtir, à $3,056,000, montrent un gain sur le mois précédent tandis que les contrats restent à bas niveau.

Energie électrique

Le gain dans la production et la distribution des usines centrales électriques a été moins que normal pour la saison. La production quotidienne moyenne a été de 44,843,000 k.w.h. comparativement à 42,638,000 en septembre. Les chargements de wagons, bien qu'influencés par le lourd mouvement du grain, ont été moins nombreux que le mois précédent, le total étant de 211,525 comparativement à 215,654. Les exportations, à $57,160,000 comparativement à $42,665,000 en septembre, montrent un gain légèrement au-dessus de la normale. Les importations, après rajustement saisonnier, montrent un gain modéré les derniers trois mois.

Le déclin des prix de gros a été le développement réactionnaire du mois, l'indice officiel touchant un nouveau bas de 65·0 comparativement à 66·9 en septembre. Les déclins du grain et du papier à journal ont été les principales influences provoquant la baisse de l'indice.

Changements économiques

Une plus ample avance des obligations de tout repos a été le facteur constructif d'octobre. Le déclin du rendement des obligations du gouvernement tend à pousser le capital vers les entreprises commerciales et à diriger les fonds liquides dans des engagements qui donneront un meilleur rapport. Le déclin persistant du rendement des obligations est considéré comme un précurseur nécessaire de la reprise spéculative et commerciale. Après les gains de juillet à septembre les actions ordinaires ont réagi pendant octobre et le volume physique des affaires reste à bas niveau au cours de la période courante (voir page 4).

Production manufacturière

L'indice revisé de la production manufacturière montre une expansion rapide depuis le milieu de 1921 jusqu'aux premiers mois de 1929. La réaction qui a suivi, toute violente qu'elle ait été, n'a pas contrebalancé la grande expansion des neuf années d'activité. On constate beaucoup de variations entre le parcours des principaux éléments pendant la période d'après-guerre. Les principaux facteurs d'expansion de la grande période de prospérité ont été le papier à journal et les industries connexes de l'automobile, y compris la production d'automobiles et de bandages en caoutchouc et le raffinage du pétrole. La fluctuation dans l'industrie du fer et de l'acier est principalement cyclique. La tendance de l'industrie de l'alimentation et du vêtement est plutôt relativement stable parce que la nourriture et le vêtement sont les premières nécessités de la vie. L'industrie du bois, telle qu'illustrée par les exportations de planches et madriers, a montré de la contraction depuis 1926. Bien que les industries de la farine, du sucre, du coton et du pétrole aient été affectées par la dépression des trois dernières années, le déclin de leurs opérations a été relativement moins prononcé que dans la plupart des autres lignes. (Voir page 10).

Relation entre le cours des actions ordinaires et le volume physique des affaires

Une comparaison de l'orientation du cours des actions ordinaires et du volume physique des affaires révèle une étroite corrélation. En tous cas, les indices de ces facteurs, en prenant la moyenne mensuelle de 1926 comme base, montrent une similarité remarquable au cours de la période d'après-guerre. Une fois rajusté pour corriger la tendance à long terme, l'indice des actions ordinaires montre de plus grandes fluctuations que l'indice des affaires mais l'orientation est généralement dans la même direction. Les indices, après rajustement pour long terme et exprimés comme multiples de la déviation standardisée, montrent une corrélation encore plus grande. Cette similarité de course, tant en matière de temps qu'en matière de direction, est un développement inattendu. L'impression générale est que les facteurs spéculatifs précédent normalement de plusieurs mois les mouvements généraux des affaires. Pendant la période sous revue les fluctuations des deux indices ont été simultanées à un degré très marqué. Pour ce qui est des indices sans rajustement, la compilation des actions ordinaires a été beaucoup plus élevée que l'indice des affaires de 1927 à 1930, mais le violent déclin des actions ordinaires a placé l'indice du volume physique des affaires à un niveau supérieur depuis les premiers mois de 1931 (Voir page 15).

La situation du blé

Vu l'abondance des récoltes de blé de l'Europe occidentale et méridionale l'été dernier, la demande du continent a été légère depuis quelques mois. Les importations de la Grande-Bretagne en août et septembre se sont limitées à 32,781,000 boisseaux comparativement à 52,296,000 boisseaux les mêmes mois de 1931. Du 1er août au 31 octobre de l'année courante les expéditions mondiales de blé et de farine de blé s'élèvent à 173 millions de boisseaux. Pendant la même période les expéditions de blé canadien donnent environ 85 millions de boisseaux en plus de 7 millions exportés sous forme de farine, faisant un total de 92 millions de boisseaux ou 53 p.c. de tout le mouvement mondial. Il n'en faut pas conclure que cette situation se continuera jusqu'à la fin de la campagne. Avec l'arrivée sur le marché du blé de l'hémisphère méridional en janvier, la compétition sur le marché du blé sera plus vive et le Canada sans aucun doute aura une part plus faible du commerce mondial de blé dans les mois d'hiver.

Vu le lourd mouvement d'exportation, le blé en disponibilité au Canada pour exportation et le report au 31 octobre 1932 se limitaient à 341,193,000 boisseaux comparativement à 266,686,000 boisseaux à la même date de l'an dernier, une augmentation de seulement 78,522,000 boisseaux en dépit d'une récolte donnant en 1932 127 millions de boisseaux de plus qu'en 1931.

Prix de gros

Après plusieurs mois de fermeté les prix de gros ont réagi en octobre, atteignant un nouveau bas dans l'histoire de l'après-guerre. L'indice officiel compilé de 502 denrées marquait 65·0 en octobre comparativement à 66·9 le mois précédent, ou seulement 1½ p.c. au-dessus du niveau d'avant-guerre en 1913. Des déclins ont été généraux parmi les groupes principaux de la classification, excepté les produits chimiques et leurs dérivés. Les produits agricoles, les textiles, le bois et papier, les métaux non ferreux montrent des déclins substantiels comparativement à leur niveau de septembre.

Le plus bas prix constaté dans les 27 années de l'histoire de la bourse des grains de Winnipeg est celui du 26 octobre alors que le blé Nord N° 1, comptant, a coté 45 $\frac{7}{8}$ cents le boisseau. Les autres grains avaient été décidément plus bas qu'en septembre.

La révolution du Brésil ayant pris fin, les prix du café sur le marché de New York ont baissé rapidement. La réaction dans le prix du caoutchouc a balayé environ une moitié des gains réalisés les trois mois précédents, à la suite des bas de juin. De forts arrivages de bovins, de porcs et de moutons sur les principaux marchés ont été partiellement causes de prix plus faibles en octobre. La cote du beurre est restée comparativement stable et le marché des œufs au Canada a vu une avance à peu près générale. Vu une augmentation dans les estimations de la récolte, la cote du coton a reculé encore, donnant en moyenne à New York 7·2 cents la livre en fonds canadiens comparativement à 8·5 cents la livre en septembre. Les cours du papier à journal canadien ont décliné à un bas sans précédent dans leur histoire, le prix coûtant étant de $37.80 la tonne f.o.b. au moulin.

Les prix de gros ont fait une avance dans plusieurs grands pays en septembre, les gains étant plus prononcés en Grande-Bretagne et en Allemagne et moins visibles aux Etats-Unis. Les groupes ayant contribué à cette force sont les produits animaux, les métaux, les textiles et les peaux.

Valeurs mobilières

Les actions ordinaires ont touché une hausse temporaire la semaine du 8 septembre. Les premières semaines d'octobre ont vu une réaction considérable suivie d'une stabilité relative pendant le reste du mois et le commencement de novembre. L'indice officiel de 122 titres la semaine du 10 novembre était à 49·8 comparativement à 62·2 la semaine du 8 septembre. Dans le même temps, tous les groupes de la classification montraient des déclins.

L'indice de 22 titres d'action privilégiée, à 46·7 en octobre, se compare à 48·3 le mois précédent.

Encaisse du revenu

Le département du Revenu National informe qu'il a encaissé en octobre $16,934,004 comparativement à $18,547,521 le même mois de 1931. Les totaux pour les sept premiers mois de l'année fiscale sont respectivement $116,062,097 et $125,531,789. Les déclins dans les droits de douane et d'accise ont été partiellement compensés par des augmentations dans le rendement des taxes d'accise. De plus, la taxe du revenu encaissée donne $1,284,898 en octobre et $52,872,510 pour les sept premiers mois de 1932, comparativement à $825,444 et $50,546,512 la période correspondante de 1931.

LA SITUATION AUX ÉTATS-UNIS

La production industrielle des Etats-Unis s'est à peu près maintenue en octobre à la suite d'une avance considérable en août et septembre. Le gain des mois derniers se constate principalement dans les textiles, les abattoirs et les salaisons. L'avance dans l'extraction du charbon bitumineux est aussi un trait frappant d'octobre. La production d'énergie électrique après rajustement saisonnier a baissé de 1 p.c. au cours du mois. A la suite de mesures restrictives la production de pétrole brut a été à un plus bas niveau. Bien que l'impulsion des mois précédents ait faibli au cours d'octobre, la production de fer et d'acier a été modérément plus forte, bien que les nouvelles affaires dans l'industrie de la construction montrent un déclin.

LA SITUATION EN GRANDE-BRETAGNE

A la suite de la très grande conversion des mois d'été, £300,000,000 de titres à 3 p.c. ont été émis à $97\frac{1}{2}$ pour rencontrer des repaiements. Aux prix d'émission, le rendement jusqu'au rachat final en 1933, est de $3\frac{1}{6}$ p.c., ce qui est à peu près le taux le plus bas depuis la guerre. Les conversions et les nouvelles émissions de l'année courante ont réduit le fardeau de l'intérêt sur cette partie de la dette anglaise affectée de £117,504,000 le 30 juin dernier à £79,200,000 le 1er février 1933, soit une réduction brute de £38,304,000 dans le fardeau du contribuable anglais, tandis que le gain net après déduction de la perte dans les taxes du revenu sera d'environ £30,000,000.

Une somme globale de nouvelles émissions de capital de £19,745,000 a été offerte sur le marché de Londres en octobre, immédiatement après le relevé de l'interdit sur les nouvelles émissions de capital à la fin de septembre. Ce chiffre est le plus élevé de tout mois depuis novembre 1930.

Le nombre de sans-travail enregistrés le 24 octobre était de 2,747,006, ou 111,005 de moins que le 26 septembre. Le nombre de complètement sans-travail a augmenté de 20,230 et le nombre de sans-travail temporaires a décliné de 130,237.

Les rapports du commerce anglais d'octobre ont été assez encourageants, les exportations de produits britanniques atteignant £30,440,000 et les réexportations £3,690,000—un total de £34,130,000 comparativement à £60,820,000 d'importations. L'excédent d'importations est donc de £26,690,000 comparativement à £42,578,000 le mois correspondant de 1931.
