1. Introduction

The Privacy Act (the Act) extends to Canadians and individuals present in Canada the right to access their personal information from federal government institutions. The Act also protects individuals' privacy by preventing others from having access to their personal information. Furthermore, it limits federal institutions' use of the personal information that they collect and retain.

Section 72 of the Act requires that the head of every institution subject to the Act prepare an annual report for tabling in Parliament. This report describes how the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer administered its responsibilities under the Act during the reporting period of April 1, 2022, to March 31, 2023.

1.1. Mandate of the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer is an independent, non-partisan agency that reports directly to Parliament which currently includes both Elections Canada and the Office of the Commissioner of Canada Elections. Elections Canada's mandate is to:

- ▶ be prepared to conduct a federal general election, by-election or referendum;
- ▶ administer the political financing provisions of the Canada Elections Act;
- ▶ monitor compliance with electoral legislation;
- ▶ conduct public information campaigns on voter registration, voting and becoming a candidate;
- ▶ conduct education programs for students on the electoral process;
- ▶ provide support to the independent commissions in charge of adjusting the boundaries of federal electoral districts following each decennial census;
- ▶ carry out studies on alternative voting methods and, with the approval of parliamentarians, test alternative voting processes for future use during electoral events; and,
- ▶ provide assistance and cooperation in electoral matters to electoral agencies in other countries or to international organizations.

In fulfilling its mandate, Elections Canada also has the responsibility to:

- ▶ appoint, train and support returning officers and retain the services of field liaison officers across Canada;
- ▶ maintain the National Register of Electors, which is used to prepare preliminary lists of electors at the start of electoral events;
- ▶ publish reports on the conduct of elections and official voting results;
- ▶ maintain electoral geography information, which provides the basis for maps and other geographic products;
- ▶ register political entities, including political parties, electoral district associations, candidates, nomination contestants, leadership contestants, third parties that engage in election advertising and referendum committees;
- ▶ administer the reimbursements and subsidies paid to eligible candidates, registered political parties and auditors;

- ▶ disclose information on registered parties and electoral district associations, registered parties' nomination and leadership contestants, candidates, third parties and referendum committees, including their financial returns;
- ▶ refer to the Commissioner of Canada Elections information concerning possible offences under the Canada Elections Act (or other relevant acts);
- ▶ consult the Advisory Committee of Political Parties for advice and recommendations;
- ▶ issue written opinions, guidelines and interpretation notes on the application of the Canada Elections Act to political entities;
- ▶ recommend to Parliament amendments for the better administration of the Canada Elections Act by submitting a recommendations report after a general election, as well as by providing expert advice and other special reports; and,
- ▶ appoint the Broadcasting Arbitrator, who is responsible for allocating free and paid broadcasting time among political parties and for arbitrating disputes that may arise between parties and broadcasters.

The Office of the Commissioner of Canada Elections is responsible for ensuring compliance with, and enforcement of, the Canada Elections Act and the Referendum Act.

1.2. Structure of the Access to Information and Privacy Office

The Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Office is part of the Office of the Chief of Staff and is headed by an Assistant Director who is supported by a senior analyst and a junior officer as well as expert consultant(s) as required.

The ATIP Office is responsible for the following activities for both Elections Canada and the Office of the Commissioner of Canada Elections:

- ▶ processing requests under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act;
- ▶ responding to consultation requests from other government institutions;
- ▶ providing advice and guidance to senior management and staff on privacy issues and privacy impact assessments;
- ▶ developing and delivering awareness training to managers and employees on how to fulfill their obligations under the Acts;
- ▶ developing policies, procedures and guidelines in support of ATIP legislation and central agency requirements;
- ▶ monitoring institutional compliance with the Acts, procedures and policies;
- ▶ acting on behalf of the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer in dealings with the Treasury Board Secretariat, the offices of the Information Commissioner and Privacy Commissioner of Canada and other government institutions regarding ATIP affairs;
- ▶ preparing annual reports to Parliament, in addition to other statutory reports and materials that may be required by central agencies;
- ▶ preparing and publishing the annual update of the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer's chapter of Info Source, describing the agency's record holdings and personal information banks; and,
- ▶ representing the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer by participating in ATIP community forums, such as the Treasury Board Secretariat's ATIP Community meetings.

2. Administration of the Privacy Act

2.1. Education and training

Privacy training at the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer typically involves educating staff on the principles of the Act and on how to securely manage privacy requests and protect personal information.

No formal training activities were conducted during the reporting period. The ATIP Office routinely raised awareness of privacy issues throughout the agency when providing advice on the collection, retention, use and disclosure of personal information.

2.2. Institutional privacy policies and procedures

No new institutional-specific policies or procedures related to privacy were implemented during the fiscal year. The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer is continuing to review its privacy tools and procedures and update them as required.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer did not receive authority for any new collections or new consistent uses of social insurance numbers during the reporting period.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer includes standard clauses in contracts, information sharing agreements and information arrangements involving personal information to support appropriate privacy protections and ensure that applicable privacy laws, principles and procedures are respected.

2.3. Institutional monitoring of privacy requests

The ATIP Office uses its case management software to monitor the status of each request being processed, including the number of days remaining before the statutory deadline. A weekly status reports of all open and recently closed files is regularly provided to senior officials, including the Chief Electoral Officer.

2.4. Material privacy breaches

A material privacy breach is any unauthorized collection, use, disclosure, retention or disposal of sensitive personal information that could reasonably be expected to cause injury or harm to the individual.

No material privacy breaches were reported to the Office of the Privacy Commissioner or to the Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat by Elections Canada during the reporting period.

2.5. Privacy impact assessments

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer regularly conducts privacy impact assessments (PIA) to address privacy risks in new or existing departmental programs, initiatives or projects that manage personal information.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer did not complete or modify any PIAs during the 2022–2023 fiscal year.

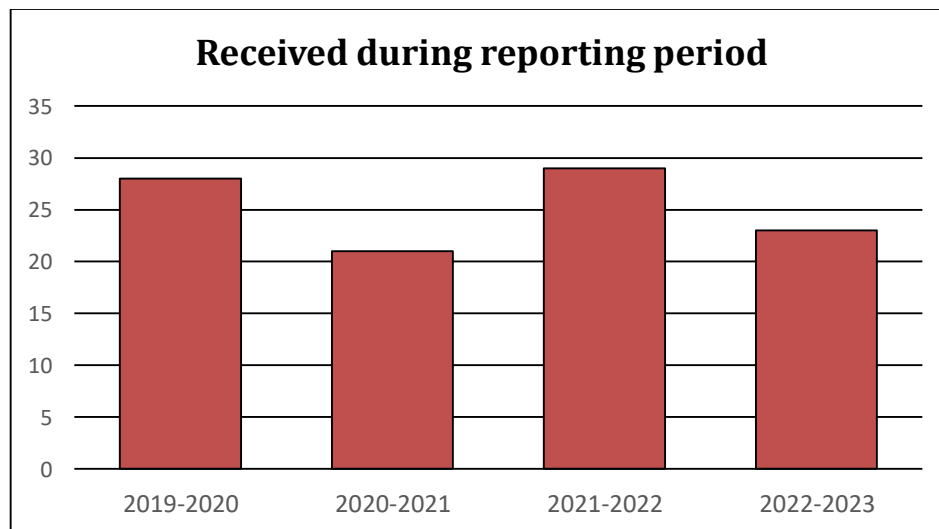

Summaries of PIAs completed by the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer can be found online at <https://www.elections.ca/content.aspx?section=res&dir=rep/pro/atip&document=index&lang=e>.

3. Statistical Report on Requests under the Privacy Act

This section provides an interpretation of several statistics on the processing of requests made to the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer under the Act. All figures and data for the 2022–2023 fiscal year are provided in the attached statistical report (see Appendix II).

3.1. Number of requests

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer received 23 formal requests for personal information during 2022–2023, a 21 percent decrease from the previous year when 29 formal requests were received. This excludes 4 additional requests carried-over from the previous fiscal year, totalling up to 27 requests for 2022–2023. Twenty-six requests were processed during the reporting period and 1 request was carried over into the new fiscal year.

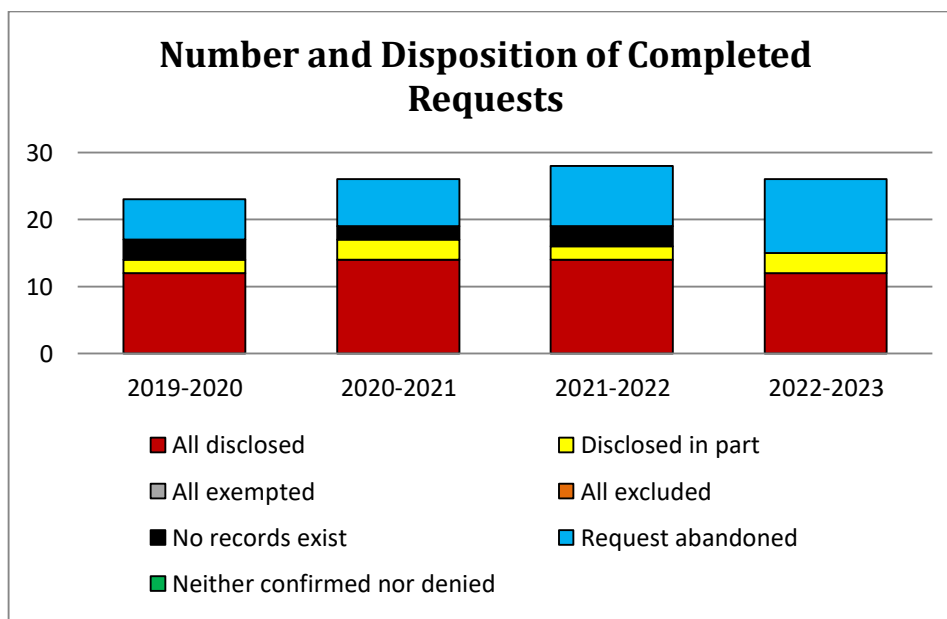

The one request that was carried over into the next reporting was received in 2022–2023 and meets the legislated timeline.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer did not receive any consultations from other institutions during the reporting period and only undertakes a consultation with another government institution when more information is required for the proper exercise of discretion to withhold information or when there is potentially sensitive information that could be disclosed.

3.2. Disposition of completed requests

Of the 26 requests completed during the reporting period, 12 resulted in full disclosure of the information requested. This represents 46 percent of all completed requests, a slight decrease from the previous fiscal year during which 50 percent resulted in full disclosure. Three requests resulted in partial disclosure, where personal information of individuals unassociated with the request was exempted further to section 26 of the Act; where personal information the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to threaten the safety of individuals was exempted further to section 25 of the Act; and, where personal information subject to solicitor-client privilege or the professional secrecy of advocates and notaries or to litigation privilege was exempted further to section 27 of the Act. There were no requests where records did not exist and 11 requests were abandoned by the applicants.

3.3. Completion time of requests

In 2022–2023, a total of 24 requests (92 percent) were completed within 30 days, compared to 96 percent in 2021–2022 when 27 requests were completed. Overall, 96 percent (25) of the requests were completed within legislated timelines. The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer has historically received simple privacy requests—primarily for information from the National Register of Electors—that are uncomplicated to process. However, 1 complex request (4 percent) from a previous fiscal year was completed in more than 365 days during the 2022–2023 reporting period. Otherwise, no requests were completed beyond legislated timelines. Operations were not affected during this period by any measures related to COVID-19.

3.4. Disclosures of personal information under paragraph 8(2)(m)

Subsection 8(2) of the Act stipulates that a government institution may disclose personal information under its control without the consent of those whom the information relates. Such disclosures are discretionary and are subject to any other act of Parliament.

Paragraph 8(2)(m) allows an institution to disclose personal information for any purpose where, in the opinion of the head of the institution, the public interest in the disclosure clearly outweighs any invasion of privacy that could result from it or where the disclosure would clearly benefit the individual to whom the information relates.

The Office of the Chief Electoral made no disclosures pursuant to paragraph 8(2)(m) in the 2022–2023 fiscal year.

3.5. Fees and Costs

There is no charge to individuals for processing requests under the Act.

During this reporting period, the ATIP Office expended $125,775 to administer the Act. Salaries, including overtime pay, accounted for $110,080 of this total, whereas spending on goods and services amounted to $15,695.

4. Complaints

Individuals who disagree with the handling of their personal information or the processing of a request under the Act can file a complaint with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer was made aware of three complaints filed with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner in 2022–2023, alleging that it contravened the collection, use and disclosure provisions of the Act. These complaints were resolved at early resolution. The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer was not aware of any active complaints on the last day of the reporting period.
