Preface

The Speech from the Throne in April 1965 contained the following statement: "The talents of some of our people are wasted because of poverty, illness, inadequate education and training, inequality in opportunities for work". To combat these problems, the Prime Minister at the Federal-Provincial Conference held in July 1965, proposed establishment of a limited number of experimental pilot training projects to conduct research and experimentation and to develop and test new methods of training to meet the needs of adults in Designated Areas.

The proposal included the development of appropriate and economical methods of:

- 1) assessing the training needs of people in the area;
- 2) determining the training required to develop occupational confidence for new job opportunities;
- 3) development of pre-vocational training in mathematics, science and communication skills;
- 4) preparation of occupational training and retraining materials and programs;
- 5) development of methods of vocational counselling and orientation;
- 6) development of methods to motivate people to enroll for and persist in training; and
- 7) promoting expanded training programs in industry.

Following the Federal-Provincial Conference, additional meetings were held and organizational plans laid culminating in October 1966 with the initial establishment of a Pilot Projects Branch within the Department of Manpower and Immigration. The purpose of this Branch was to develop a Canada NewStart Program in co-operation with provinces willing to participate. In 1968, it was transferred to the Department of Regional Economic Expansion and became known as the Social and Human Analysis Branch.

The first provinces to agree formally to a NewStart Program were Alberta, Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. Manitoba and New Brunswick followed later. It was agreed that the Corporations would be organized as non-profit companies jointly established by the federal and provincial governments, but funded by the federal government. Each participating province proposed a Designated Area, having a significant proportion of disadvantaged adults, as a site for a pilot project.

The individual NewStart Corporation programs were all different resulting from conditions in the local areas, composition of the target populations, needs of various sub-groups and from the philosophy, interest and capability of a NewStart staff. At the same time, all of the existing programs had certain common components and elements. All contained basic education programs, some form of basic life skills, some form of occupational training, individual and family counselling, and community development.

Alberta, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island NewStarts have concluded their activities. The Department of Manpower and Immigration has taken over the assets and a number of the former staff of Saskatchewan NewStart, and is operating a Training Research and Development Station in Prince Albert. New Brunswick NewStart continues its operating role under DREE sponsorship until the spring of 1974. New reports received will be added to this Inventory.

To complement the Inventory, a series of consolidated reports have been prepared. These reports which synthesize the work of all six NewStart Corporations, cover the following areas:

An Overview of the Canada NewStart Program;
Human Resources, Recruitment, Motivation and Counselling;
Information Processes;
Life Skills;
Occupational Skill and Development Training;
Training and Employment of Paraprofessionals;
Social Development;
Research Methods.

Since it is virtually impossible to anticipate the demand for material contained in this Inventory, and as it would be extremely expensive to print all the documents in quantity, the decision was made to make them available in microfiche form. Documents have been reproduced in the language received and single microfiche copies are available from:

Avant-Propos

Dans le discours du Trône d'avril 1965, on affirmait entre autres que les talents de certains Canadiens sont perdus à cause de la pauvreté, de la maladie, d'une instruction et d'une formation inadéquates et de l'inégalité dans les possibilités de travailler. Pour résoudre ces problèmes, le Premier ministre proposa, lors de la Conférence fédérale-provinciale tenue en juillet 1965, de mettre sur pied un nombre limité de projets-pilotes qui permettraient de faire des recherches et des expériences ainsi que d'élaborer et d'expérimenter de nouvelles méthodes de formation pour répondre aux besoins des adultes dans des régions choisies.

La proposition comprenait l'élaboration de méthodes appropriées et de méthodes économiques touchant les domaines suivants:

- 1) évaluation des besoins de formation des habitants des régions choisies;
- 2) détermination de la formation requise pour développer les aptitudes professionnelles voulues face aux nouvelles possibilités d'emploi;
- 3) développement de la formation préprofessionnelle dans les domaines des mathématiques, des sciences et des communications;
- 4) préparation de matériel et de programmes de formation professionnelle et de recyclage;
- 5) élaboration de méthodes de conseil et d'orientation professionnels;
- 6) développement de méthodes pour inciter les gens à s'inscrire à des cours de formation et à persévérer dans leurs études;

- 7) promotion d'une utilisation plus poussée des programmes de formation dans l'industrie.

A la suite de la Conférence fédérale-provinciale, on a tenu d'autres réunions et on a dressé des plans d'organisation qui, en octobre 1966, donnaient naissance à la Direction des projets-pilotes au sein du ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration. Le but de cette Direction était d'élaborer un programme de relance au Canada en collaboration avec les provinces désireuses d'y participer. En 1968, la Direction passait au ministère de l'Expansion économique régionale pour devenir la Direction des études sociales et humaines.

Les premières provinces à adhérer officiellement au Programme de relance furent l'Alberta, la Saskatchewan, la Nouvelle-Écosse et l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard, suivies plus tard du Manitoba et du Nouveau-Brunswick. Il fut convenu que les sociétés seraient constituées sous forme d'organismes non lucratifs, établis conjointement par les gouvernements fédéral et provinciaux mais financés par l'administration fédérale. Chaque province participante désigna une région comptant une grande proportion d'adultes défavorisés pour la mise sur pied d'un projet-pilote.

Les programmes particuliers de chaque société de relance ont varié étant donné les différences au chapitre des conditions dans les régions de la composition des populations-cibles, des besoins des différents sous-groupes et de la philosophie, l'intérêt et la capacité du personnel des sociétés. Par contre, certains éléments se retrouvaient dans tous les programmes: éducation de base, connaissances pratiques élémentaires, formation professionnelle, conseil et orientation pour les particuliers et les familles et développement communautaire.

Les sociétés de relance de l'Alberta, du Manitoba, de la Nouvelle-Écosse et de l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard ont mis fin à leur activité. Les biens ainsi qu'une partie du personnel de la Société de relance de la Saskatchewan sont passés au ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration qui administre maintenant un centre de recherche et de développement en formation à Prince Albert. De son côté, la Société de relance du Nouveau-Brunswick poursuivra son travail sous l'égide du MEER jusqu'au printemps de 1974. Les nouveaux rapports reçus seront versés au répertoire.

Pour compléter le répertoire, on a colligé une série de rapports qui résument le travail des six sociétés de relance et touchent les domaines suivants:

- Vue d'ensemble du Programme de relance au Canada;
- Ressources humaines, recrutement, motivation, conseil et orientation;
- Mécanismes d'information;
- Connaissances pratiques;
- Compétence professionnelle et formation de perfectionnement;
- Formation et emploi des para-professionnels;
- Développement social;
- Méthodes de recherche.

Étant donné qu'il est pratiquement impossible de prévoir la demande à l'égard de la documentation versée au répertoire et que l'impression en plusieurs exemplaires de tous les documents serait très coûteuse, on a décidé de les présenter sous forme de microfiches. Chaque document a été reproduit dans la langue d'origine et on peut s'en procurer des exemplaires sur microfiches en s'adressant à:

Introduction

This Inventory contains a comprehensive listing of materials produced by and for the six corporations that comprised the Canada NewStart Program. A number of unpublished and unedited drafts have been included as they may contain useful resource material for research.

It must be emphasized that the material contained in the Inventory does not necessarily reflect the official position or policy of the Department of Regional Economic Expansion. In setting up the NewStart Corporations, the Government of Canada deliberately encouraged the free expression of professional judgment in the conduct of all projects.

Over 500 documents have been received from the six NewStart Corporations and each has been assigned an identifying prefix and number for retrieval purposes. The prefixes are as follows:

- P - Prince Edward Island
- S - Saskatchewan
- NB - New Brunswick
- NS - Nova Scotia
- A - Alberta
- M - Manitoba
- F - General NewStart Documents

The number following these prefixes simply represents the order in which the documents were recorded. To facilitate ease of retrieval, the Inventory has been arranged in three ways. First, a listing by number for each Corporation; second, an alphabetical listing by author; and third, by occupational grouping.

As a service to those interested in related groupings, a two dimensional grid system has been developed and is organized in ten grids. These are as follows:

- Grid 1) Program Design and Evaluation
- Grid 2) Recruitment, Motivation and Counselling
- Grid 3) Social Development Activities
- Grid 4) Adult Basic Education
- Grid 5) Occupational Training
- Grid 6) Life Skills
- Grid 7) Placement and Follow-up Counselling
- Grid 8) Information Giving
- Grid 9) Information Gathering
- Grid 10) Administration

Reports have been further classified in the horizontal dimension in terms of the sequence of development activities:

- A) Briefs and Outlines
- B) Planning Studies
- C) Input Studies
- D) Survey Studies
- E) Process Studies
- F) Product Studies
- G) Output (Effect) Studies

Each document has been arbitrarily assigned to appropriate grid cells by a team and, although a number of people have participated, special thanks must be given to Pat Sloan, Katharine Cooke and George Caldwell. Kristi Vilmansen did the original filing and supervised the microfilming process.

Introduction

Le répertoire renferme la liste de tous les documents produits pour et par les six sociétés dans le cadre du Programme de relance au Canada. Un certain nombre d'ébauches et de brouillons inédits, susceptibles de constituer les documents de référence et de recherche utiles, ont été ajoutés.

On doit souligner que des documents versés au répertoire ne reflètent pas nécessairement la position ou la ligne de conduite officielle du ministère de l'Expansion économique régionale. En mettant sur pied les sociétés de relance, le gouvernement du Canada donnait délibérément libre cours au jugement professionnel dans la conduite de tous les projets.

Aux 500 documents et plus qui ont été reçus des six sociétés de relance, on a attribué un indicatif alphanumérique aux fins de repérage. Les lettres utilisées sont les suivantes:

- P - Île-du-Prince-Édouard
- S - Saskatchewan
- NB - Nouveau-Brunswick
- NE - Nouvelle-Écosse
- A - Alberta
- M - Manitoba
- F - Documents généraux touchant
le Programme de relance

La partie numérique de l'indicatif ne sert qu'à indiquer l'ordre d'inscription des documents. Pour faciliter le repérage, on a établi le répertoire de trois manières différentes: premièrement une liste numérique pour chaque société; deuxièmement, une liste alphabétique par auteur; et troisièmement, une liste par groupement professionnel.

A l'intention des personnes intéressées par les regroupements thématiques, on a organisé une greffe de classification à deux dimensions, verticale et horizontale. La partie verticale est divisée en dix sections qui sont énumérées ci-dessous:

- Section 1 Mise au point et évaluation des programmes
- Section 2 Recrutement, motivation et orientation
- Section 3 Activités de développement social
- Section 4 Éducation de base aux adultes
- Section 5 Formation professionnelle
- Section 6 Dynamique de la vie
- Section 7 Placement et consultation suivie
- Section 8 Distribution d'information
- Section 9 Cueillette d'information
- Section 10 Administration

Les rapports ont été en outre classés horizontalement comme suit:

- A Rapports préliminaires et profils généraux
- B Études de planification
- C Analyses préliminaires
- D Analyse des enquêtes
- E Études méthodologiques
- F Production finale
- G Études des effets (Impacts)

Une équipe a assigné arbitrairement une classification appropriée à chaque document. Bien qu'un certain nombre de personnes aient participé à ce travail, une mention spéciale doit être attribuée à Katharine Cooke, Pat Sloan et George Caldwell. Kristie Vilmansen s'est chargé du classement original et a supervisé le microfilmage des documents.

Cross-reference by subject grouping grids/
Grilles de référence par sujets

How To Use The Grid Classification

1. Select the Grid that most closely relates to the general subject matter of interest to you. For example, Paraprofessional Training to Become a Social Work Aide is a type of occupational training and will be found on Grid 5 - Occupational Training.
2. If your particular interest is, for example, the trainee curriculum developed by the NewStart Corporations, look then at Column F, "Product Studies", since a curriculum is classified as a product of a NewStart.
3. The row headings at the right of the Grid indicate whether the behaviour change expected will affect the individual, group or others.
4. Six references will be found in Grid Cell 51-F, twelve in 52-F, and eight in 53-F. By referring to the chronological listing section of this Inventory, you will find that S-51 relates to Social Work Aide Curriculum, Trainee Guide. You may find other works related to the same subject within these clusters.

Mode d'emploi des grilles

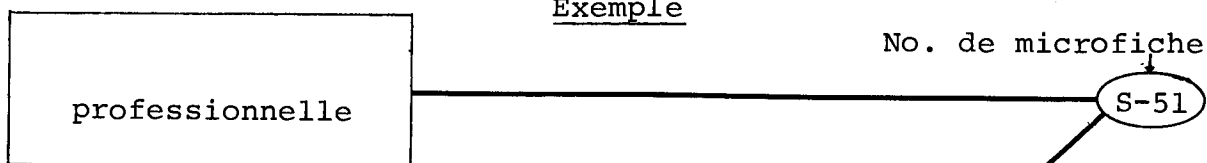

1. Utilisez la grille dont le titre correspond au sujet qui vous intéresse. Si vos recherches portent par exemple sur la formation paraprofessionnelle que reçoivent les techniciens du travail social, utilisez la grille 5 - Formation professionnelle.

2. Les colonnes correspondent aux différents types de recherche publiés. Si vous vous intéressez par exemple aux programmes de formation mis au point par les sociétés de relance, regardez la colonne F - Produit final des études.

3. Les lignes correspondent aux divers domaines d'impact des activités visées par les études. Dans notre exemple, on s'intéresse aux individus (ligne 51). La case appropriée à notre exemple est donc 51-F.

4. Il y a six références indiquées à cette case: A-23, S-45, S-51, S-54, S-77 et S-85. Chacune correspond au numéro de microfiche d'un document concernant la formation professionnelle des individus. Il suffit de consulter le catalogue, section Microfiches, pour trouver le document se rapportant au sujet recherché, dans notre exemple le numéro S-51, "Social Work Aide Curriculum -- Trainee Guide".
