

Do you have a will?

Did you know?

<9%

Less than 9% of First Nations peoples living on a reserve have a will when they pass away.

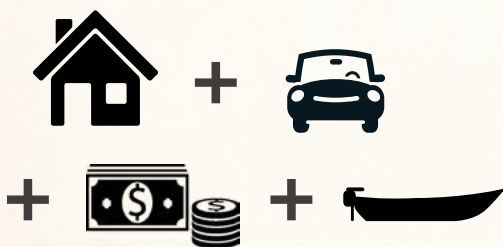

- our website has information about planning your estate
- your will differs if you live on or off a reserve
- the Indian Act outlines what should be included in your will
- you can only gift the land you possess on a reserve to someone who is a member of your First Nation
- you can change your will as often as you like
- writing a will doesn't have to be complicated or costly

Why make a will?

- to provide for your loved ones, children and grandchildren

- to clearly state who should receive your possessions

- to leave instructions for end-of-life ceremonies

- to decide who will get your home and property

- to name who will take care of your children and dependents

- to name who will take care of your estate

Catalogue: R122-49/2023E-PDF
ISBN: 978-0-660-49623-8

A will can provide peace of mind and clear direction about your wishes to your family and loved ones.

To find out more, visit Estate services for First Nations