DIAGNOSIS OF GENETIC DISEASE BY AMNIOCENTESIS DURING THE SECOND TRIMESTER OF PREGNANCY

Medical Research Council, Report No. 5. One of the newer diagnostic aids to pregnant women is amniocentesis, the removal of a small amount of fluid from the uterus from which evidence may be obtained of the presence or possible presence of certain defects of the fetus. It is important to know the safety of a new procedure such as this and the best way to carry it out. The Working Group on Amniocentesis has studied these questions in a well-organized fashion that has produced reliable information and conclusions. They have presented their findings in sufficient detail to permit others to form their own opinions. Tables, charts, appendices. 159 pp. Bilingual.

LIVING TOGETHER - A STUDY OF REGIONAL DISPARITIES

Economic Council of Canada. The result of three years of research into the causes of regional disparities with a view to widening understanding sufficiently to suggest new directions in policy-making. The first four chapters examine the rationale for regional policy, maintaining that the goals of regional policy-making should be to reduce three fundamental types of disparity - unemployment, income and population. The following three chapters examine the causes of these kinds of disparities. Chapters 8 and 9 describe existing policy to alleviate disparities, and chapter 10 summarizes the most important results of the research and contains the recommendations. POPULATION, TECHNOLOGY AND RESOURCES

Report No. 25, Science Council of Canada. This report is addressed to the public in order to point out that Canadians must now discard some hitherto popular myths about Canada: namely, that its agricultural potential is more or less infinite, and that its resources and land area will always support a virtually open-door immigration policy. Looks at those issues related to the question of population size which have a scientific or technological component. Proposes certain measures to be adopted in the future. Index. 91 pp. Reprint.
