Minister’s message

I am pleased to present Environment and Climate Change Canada’s report on fees for 2025-26.

As the department responsible for protecting Canada’s natural environment, it is essential that our services are not only effective but also delivered efficiently and responsibly. The Service Fees Act plays a vital role in promoting transparency in how these services are funded, which is especially important in today’s context, where affordability is a priority for Canadians and competitiveness pressures are significant for industry.

The Service Fees Act provides a modern legislative framework that enables cost-effective delivery of services and, through better reporting to Parliament, improves transparency and oversight.

Last year’s report provided details on each fee, including the type and rate of adjustment, applicable service standards, and performance results.

This year’s report follows a similar structure; however, information on individual fees is presented in consolidated tables by grouping rather than separately. It continues to provide comprehensive information on all fees, including any anticipated changes, instances where the Department applied section 17 of the Service Fees Act, and the number of its fees are subject to the Low-Materiality Fees Regulations as well as information on remissions.

I welcome the increased transparency and oversight embodied in the Service Fees Act reporting regime. I will continue to support Environment and Climate Change Canada’s implementation of the reporting regime established under the Service Fees Act.

The Honourable Julie Dabrusin, MP
Minister of the Environment, Climate Change and Nature

About this report

This report, which is tabled under section 20 of the Service Fees Act[i], the Low-Materiality Fees Regulations[ii], and subsection 4.2.9 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities[iii], contains information about the fees Environment and Climate Change Canada had the authority to charge in fiscal year 2025-26.

The report covers fees that are subject to the Service Fees Act.

For reporting purposes, fees are categorized by fee-setting mechanism. There are three mechanisms:

1. Act, regulation or fees notice
   The authority to set these fees is delegated to a department, minister or Governor in Council pursuant to an act of Parliament.

2. Contract
   Ministers have the inherent authority to enter into contracts, which are usually negotiated between the minister and an individual or organization, and which cover fees and other terms and conditions. In some cases, that authority may also be provided by an act of Parliament.

3. Market rate or auction
   The authority to set these fees comes from an act of Parliament or a regulation, and the minister, department or Governor in Council has no control in determining the fee amount.

For fees set by act, regulation or fees notice, the report provides totals for fee groupings, as well as detailed information for each fee. For fees set by contract, the report provides totals only.

Fees charged by Environment and Climate Change Canada under the Access to Information Act[iv] are not subject to the Service Fees Act and are not included in this report. Information on Environment and Climate Change Canada's access to information fees can be found in our annual report to Parliament on the administration of the Access to Information Act: Reports tabled in Parliament[v].

Remissions

In 2025-26, Environment and Climate Change Canada was subject to the requirements to issue remissions under section 7 of the Service Fees Act and subsection 4.2.4 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities to remit a fee, in whole or in part, to a fee payer when a service standard was not met. Environment and Climate Change Canada's remission policy and procedures, pursuant to the Service Fees Act, are on the following web page: Departmental Remissions Policy for Service Fees[vi].

The other sections of this report provide detailed amounts for Environment and Climate Change Canada's remissions for 2025-26.

Overall totals, by fee-setting mechanism

The following table presents the total revenue, cost and remissions for all fees Environment and Climate Change Canada had the authority to charge in 2025-26, by fee-setting mechanism.

Overall totals for 2025-26, by fee-setting mechanism

Fee grouping
New Substances Fees

Program Description
The New Substances program consists of officials from Environment and Climate Change Canada and Health Canada. It is responsible for administering the New Substances Notification Regulations (Chemicals and Polymers) [NSNR (Chemicals and Polymers)] and the New Substances Notification Regulations (Organisms) [NSNR (Organisms)] made under the Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999 (CEPA). These regulations ensure that no new substances (chemicals, polymers or living organisms) are introduced into the Canadian marketplace before undergoing ecological and human health assessments, and that appropriate control measures have been taken, when required. The amount of fees required is dependent on the annual sales in Canada for the notifier, the specific Schedule of the New Substances Notification (NSN) and other requested services (such as a confidential search of the DSL [Domestic Substances List] or NDSL [Non-Domestic Substances List], or masked name application).

Fee-setting authority

- Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999[vii], part 11
- New Substances Fees Regulations[viii], SOR/2002-374
- New Substances Fees Regulations[ix], section 6, SOR/2002-374
- New Substances Fees Regulations[x], section 7, SOR/2002-374

Disposal at Sea Program

Program Description
Under the Canadian Environmental Protection Act (CEPA), permits may be issued for the disposal at sea of certain low-risk wastes following a rigorous assessment. Application fees help recover the cost of permit assessments, while permit fees fund the monitoring of disposal sites to ensure protection of the marine environment.
