INTRODUCTION

Publications

Statistics Canada responsibilities in the Canadian statistical system concern the whole range of statistics on economic and social activities in Canada. The number of subjects dealt with is therefore quite large. Publications are grouped by subject areas, and include the statistical information for each area which is most commonly used. It is obviously impossible to publish compilations which will serve every purpose or need. Therefore, users should keep in mind that a considerable volume of unpublished information is available from Statistics Canada on request.

Data Files and Unpublished Information

In addition to providing regular information on the publications program, this Catalogue contains a section on data files and unpublished information. The descriptions provided are in sufficient detail in most cases for the placing of orders. Included with the description for each subject area is the title of the officer or the name of the section to contact for further information. If in doubt, you should contact the Central Inquiries Service, Statistics Canada, telephone 992-2959, or 992-4734, area code 613. Like all information from Statistics Canada, data files are subject to the clauses of the Statistics Act which protect organizations and persons from individual disclosure.

For further details on the availability of data files and unpublished information, please refer to Part II of this Catalogue. See page 175.

Local Access to Data

Statistics Canada has a Central Inquiries Service which operates as a central focal point to deal with inquiries from the general public. This group of specialists is thoroughly conversant with the variety of information available throughout the bureau and is also knowledgeable about other sources of information in the federal and provincial governments as well as private organizations. The group can be reached by writing to Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T6, or by telephoning (613) 992-4734 or 992-2959. The latter telephone is equipped to record requests on a 24 hours a day basis.

Also, Regional Advisors are located in Statistics Canada Regional Offices across Canada. These people have backgrounds in business and government, and will suggest ways to solve problems using Statistics Canada data. Addresses and Telephone numbers of these officers and their support staffs are listed on page 3.

Statistics Canada publications are also generally available for reference in libraries, including the National Library, provincial legislative libraries, major public libraries and university libraries. Libraries making available all publications are listed on page 8.

How to Use this Catalogue

For the seasoned user of Statistics Canada information, the Table of Contents beginning on page 4 will lead him to the statistics he wants. For the non-expert however, the title, subject, and commodity index beginning on page 185 will usually be helpful. It contains several thousand entries arranged in alphabetical order and is cross-referenced to show the several publications (if such is the case) in which information on a given subject may be found.

Concerning the catalogue numbering system, it will help to know that:

- (1) the first digit of the number indicates the major group (manufacturing, transportation, etc.);

- (2) the second digit indicates the subgroup of the major group; for example, under manufacturing, textiles and apparel, wood products;
- (3) the third digit indicates the frequency of publication, such as occasional, annual or more than once a year;
- (4) the fourth and fifth digits are permanent numbers for each publication.

How to Order Publications

When ordering Statistics Canada publications please keep in mind the following points:

- (1) Send your order to Publications Distribution, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T6.
- (2) Please quote the Catalogue number as well as the publication title when ordering.
- (3) Please enclose payment with your order. Cheques or money orders should be made payable to the Receiver General for Canada.
- (4) You can order the Full Publication Service and receive all Statistics Canada publications automatically as soon as they are released. The current cost is $840 per year for the service to locations in Canada and $1,008 for the service to locations elsewhere. An additional charge is levied if air mail delivery is requested.

This does not include Census publications which are priced at $300 for the 1971 series on population, agriculture, households and families, and the labour force. It should be noted that prices of individual publications are subject to change without notice.

- (5) If you find it more convenient, Statistics Canada publications may also be ordered from Information Canada bookstores in Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver listed on page 2.

How to Make Inquiries

If you wish to send your inquiry to a specific person or section in Statistics Canada, by all means do so. If not, your best course is to send it to the Central Inquiries Service, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, K1A 0T6 – telephone (613) 992-2959 or 992-4734 – or to the Statistics Canada Regional Advisor in your area. The addresses and telephone numbers are listed on page 3.

The Industrial Commodity Classification (ICC) is the application of the Standard Commodity Classification (SCC) - (12-502) - in the field of industrial commodity statistics. The ICC utilizes a decimal coding system which facilitates the automatic processing of industrial commodity data. The main purpose of this study is the identification and analysis of the basic hypotheses of different kinds of models for time series. Emphasis is given to univariate models for which well established methods of estimation already exist. By discussing their assumptions it is hoped to make users and researchers aware of their limitations. Error models, autoregressive models, moving average models and autoregressive integrated moving average models are extensively treated in both the frequency and time domain. Chapter 8 is devoted to the problem of ergodicity and Chapter 10 deals with time series with seasonality. $1.40

3: MANUFACTURING

Description of Reports

Publications listed under "Manufacturing" relate to Division 5 of the Standard Industrial Classification.

These publications consist of a large number of reports, some of which provide summarized and analytical information for manufacturing as a whole and others which provide detailed information on individual manufacturing industries or on various commodities.

Although titles of the various reports are broadly indicative of the subject matter covered, explanatory notes have been included under title headings where necessary. Such notes are generally restricted to reports dealing with the manufacturing industries as a whole (sub-group 31) and to those publications dealing with commodities. The reports on individual industries are generally similar to each other in character and include such principal statistics as: number of establishments, number and type of employees and their salaries and wages, cost of fuel and electricity, value of shipments of goods of own manufacture, and value added. Comparative statistics are given for Canada for earlier years and for the preceding year for provinces. Also shown are the value and, where applicable, quantities of major products shipped and purchased materials used by establishments classified to the industry. Some reports also show total manufacturers' shipments of relevant commodities without regard to industry of origin, but this is given comprehensively for all commodities in an annual report on products shipped by Canadian manufacturers.

Primarily due to the fact that annual surveys cannot be initiated until the end of the calendar year and to the time required to collect, edit and compile extensive data, most annual industry reports are not available until a year or more after the end of the year of survey. However, two-page preliminary bulletins providing data on shipments of goods of own manufacture and on principal statistics by province are issued to subscribers as soon as the statistics on individual industries are compiled, expediting their availability to users considerably. Other preliminary bulletins are also published relating to manufacturing as a whole.

In addition there are a large number of publications which are published more frequently than once a year and which contain current information on commodities (generally shipments, production or consumption). Although not exactly suitable to industry analyses, except in the case of one-industry commodities, they have proven to be most useful in commodity analyses.

Current estimates of the value of shipments, inventories and orders for manufacturing industries in total, numerous sub-aggregations and selected industries are issued monthly. They are based on a sample survey of establishments representing about 75% of the shipments, determined from the Census of Manufactures.

31: General Survey

Preliminary Bulletins, Census of Manufactures

A preliminary bulletin for almost every report of the annual Census of Manufactures, including some 130 industry reports and most general reports, is sent free-of-charge to subscribers to the report involved. In addition, the entire set of preliminary bulletins may be subscribed to as a service for $4.90 per annual Census. Preliminary bulletins contain selected commodity and principal statistics (employees, shipments, etc.) in the case of industry reports and selected principal statistics in the case of general reports.

31-509 Industrial Migration in Ontario. 154 pp.

Examines the application of Markov chain models to the forecasting of two aspects of industrial activity: the relocations of manufacturing establishments, and their growth as measured by number of employees. The modelling is based on data derived from the annual Census of Manufactures spanning the period 1961-65. The study also explores techniques of improving the accuracy of Markov chain models for projective purposes. A basic exposition of the theory is given, and the statistical tests to verify the assumptions of order and stationarity are explained. $1

Uses the industry mix-regional share technique for analysing changes in manufacturing employment. Change in employment for each industry in a census division is compared with the national growth rate for all industries, and this difference is resolved into two components: that attributable to the particular industry's growth rate (industry mix) and the residual change (regional share). Includes an explanation of concepts and methods used. $1.50

1971 CENSUS PUBLICATIONS

Final results of Canada's Eleventh Decennial Census of 1971 are being issued in a variety of formats. These are described in the following paragraphs.

Published Reports

This catalogue presents a listing of the final results that are to be published in the form of hard copy reports. There are four main series as follows:

- (1) Advance Series: These reports provide summary information on specified topics for which there is widespread demand and are published earlier than the regular series of volume reports.
- (2) Volume Series: Reports in this series represent the main statistical results of the 1971 Census and are prepared in such a way that the user can combine the contents to form the subject-matter of each volume of the 1971 Census. Hard-cover binders suitably titled are supplied to those ordering at one time the complete set of reports for any given volume part.
- (3) Census Tract Series: Basic population and housing data are being issued for each of the large cities (or metropolitan areas) according to census tracts (i.e., small areas of approximate uniformity in population size and composition).
- (4) Special Series: This series contains some basic materials not included in the regular Volume Series and which relate to more specialized subject classifications or provide more detailed areal classifications of basic distribution of population data.

Publication Dates of Reports

Problems arising from such factors as the availability of tabulations, printing priorities, etc., affect the expected publication dates of given reports. An updated list of anticipated release dates (by quarterly periods) can be provided on request for any reports not yet in print at any given time following the issue of this catalogue, by contacting the User Inquiry Service of the Census Field of Statistics Canada.

User Inquiry Service

(a) General

For the 1971 Census a central service area has been established to assist users to obtain census data. In addition to the published reports listed in this catalogue, there are numerous other special products or services available, and a variety of forms in which statistics can be supplied. General descriptive information, consultation and technical documentation related to the conduct of the census and on the processing of the data, special products, prices and availability can be obtained by writing or telephoning to:

User Inquiry Service,
Census Field,
Statistics Canada,
Ottawa
Telephone (613) 996-5254

When making a request, users should specify clearly the materials or subject-matter characteristics desired and the geographic or geo-administrative areas for which the census data are required. In some cases, the general nature of the problem, hypothesis, or project might assist in determination of their availability.

A newsletter titled Communiqué informs users in capsule form of what is occurring in the Census Field by presenting information concerning publications, research papers, release dates and general news items. This newsletter published periodically, is available free on request.

The major products and services available through the User Inquiry Service are outlined in the following sections. More details on lists of tabulations available on microfilm, specifications of summary tapes, etc., can be obtained on request.

(b) Agriculture

Users solely concerned with Census of Agriculture data or methodology may wish to contact directly

Computer Print-outs and Microfilm

In addition to the tabular results released in the form of reports or bulletins, a large number of tables will be produced in the form of computer print-outs. These tabulations are micro-filmed and their contents can be made available as photocopies or on microfilm, subject to confidentiality constraints. Data in these formats are individually prepared on request and a charge to cover the cost of reproduction is made.

Microfilm of the foregoing tabulations are on 16-millimeter film with comic orientation and are supplied in conventional 100-foot rolls (1,500-2,500 images). Film is available in diazo or silver copy form.

In most cases, more than one tabulation will be found on an individual roll of microfilm. However, only complete rolls are supplied. Cartridge loading, if required, splicing, etc. are the customer's responsibility.

Maps and Geographic Reference Materials

Large scale maps depicting the boundaries of the 1971 Census enumeration areas and other statistical areas can be purchased. These include an urban map series, a rural map series and a census tract map series showing enumeration areas (i.e. the territory covered by each enumerator in taking the census). In addition, various small scale maps are available depicting census divisions and other statistical areas. Maps from the 1971 Census are also available on 35-millimeter microfilm. A detailed list of the reference maps indicating scales, dimensions and costs can be obtained by requesting "Availability of Reference Maps 1971, Census Field".

Official Lists, identifying the composition of administrative and statistical areas (i.e. counties, cities, towns, villages, municipalities, census tracts, metropolitan areas and census agglomerations) in terms of the component enumeration areas and census codes, are available at cost.

Street Indexes providing the link between civic addresses and enumeration areas (and census tracts where they exist) were compiled for 59 centres in the year preceding the 1971 Census and are available in published form and on magnetic tape. Indexes for 37 of the largest centres have been updated as of June 1, 1971 and are available at nominal cost in the form of computer print-outs and also on computer tape.

An area master file describes the street network and other physical features as defined by means of geographic co-ordinates within a designated area. Presently there are 16 census metropolitan areas for which this file is available.

Other general reference materials available include Enumeration Area and Census Tract Descriptions, Changes in Municipal Boundaries, Census Tract and Enumeration Area Correspondence Tables.

User Summary Tapes

A large number of tables will be produced and distributed on computer tape. The tapes contain tabulated data (not individual census records) and usually have more detail than is provided in printed reports. The summary tapes allow users to aggregate the tabulations either on a geographic basis or by combining data cells. They are available for a variety of geographic areas including enumeration areas, census tracts and municipalities.

The tape files are organized to provide Canada-wide coverage for a particular geographic level. Separate tape series will be produced for the short form (100% coverage) questions, the long form (1/3 sample) questions, and for the census of agriculture.

In addition to tapes containing tabulated information from the census questions, several tapes containing supplementary geographic data are available. The most commonly used are the Geography Tape and the Statistical Area Boundary File (CARTLIB). The former contains the complete geographic codes for all enumeration areas and the latter contains a machine-readable base map (geographic boundaries) for computer mapping of census tracts and census divisions.

Special Tabulations

In so far as confidentiality constraints permit, Statistics Canada will produce for users, at cost, special computer tabulations not included in the main programme. In most cases, these special tabulations will be produced using the newly developed Geographically Referenced Data Storage and Retrieval System (GRDSR) commonly known as Geocoding. In cases where these systems can be applied, both time and cost factors are reduced substantially. The GRDSR system is designed to provide flexibility in cross-tabulation and specification of the geographical areas (i.e., user defined areas) for which special tabulations are to be produced.

Special tabulations can be produced in hard copy (print-out) form, microfilm, or on magnetic tape. Cost estimates will be provided upon submission of the tabulation specifications. Users desiring special tabulations are requested to be as precise as possible in describing their requirements. Essential specifications are: the exact variables or characteristics required; the set of responses or categories to be reported for each characteristic; and the specific geographic units for which data are to be tabulated. An illustration of the desired table layout and acceptable alternatives for any of the above will facilitate processing of requests. Turn-around time for such requests will depend upon the complexity of the tables and availability of computer resources. Contracts and prepayment or deposits may be required for large orders.

Census Tract Series

Reports in the Census Tract Series present basic population, housing, household, family and labour force characteristics for statistical areas (i.e., census tracts) within each of 29 larger urban centres and census metropolitan areas. Two reports are being issued for each tracted centre — one providing distributions of 100 p.c. data ("A" series) and the other containing classifications of sample data ("B" series). Each report contains an index map outlining the locations of the census tracts for that particular area.

"A" Series

Census tract reports in the "A" series present basic distributions by age, sex, marital status, and mother tongue as well as family and household size and composition, and housing attributes of tenure, type of dwellings, number of rooms, and sanitary facilities.

PART II

Data Files and Unpublished Information

Part II of this Catalogue consists of two main elements, data files and information apart from data files which is generally described as unpublished information. This latter is information which may be useful to a limited number of individuals or organizations, but which is not published because the interest in it is not considered to be sufficiently broad.

Data files include summary tapes, punch card decks and micro data files. These latter are files of individual survey records which have been stripped of any information tending to identify the individual, family, household, etc., to which the record relates.

Unpublished information includes special tabulations, copies of special statements, computer print-outs, and so on. Some unpublished non-statistical information, technical papers and maps such as census maps are also available.

Like all information issued by Statistics Canada, however, data files and unpublished information are subject to the limitations of the Statistics Act which prevents the disclosure of information tending to identify individual persons or companies.

In instances where a request for unpublished information or a data file can be met without a considerable amount of time and effort, there is no charge. In some cases where the work to be done is substantial, a charge may be made. In still other cases a standard charge is made. Where charges are not specified in this Catalogue an estimate of cost will be provided before the work is undertaken.

Some of the classifications in use in the bureau can be made available in machine-readable form. Those interested in acquiring such material should apply in the first instance, to the Standards Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T6. Otherwise, your dealings would be with the subject area division which produces the information you are interested in or with the Regional Advisor in your region listed on page 3 of this Catalogue.

CANSIM

Details about CANSIM – Canadian Socio-economic Information Management System – are provided on pages 17 and 18 of this Catalogue.

Capital and Repair Expenditures

Annual capital and repair expenditures for sub-divisions of the major industry groups in manufacturing in the years 1960 to 1974 are available from the Capital Expenditures Section, Construction Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa.

Census

From the 1971 Census of Canada, a large amount of statistical information not published as reports is available in the form of computer print-outs, summary tapes, and microform. Reference to these materials is made at page 141 of this Catalogue where the availability of 1971 Census information is described.

Certain unpublished data (principally computer print-outs and summary tapes for enumeration areas) are available also from the 1961 and 1966 Censuses.

It is also planned to produce micro data in the form of Public Use Sample Files based on a 1% sample of the 1971

Census returns. Such data are not available from censuses taken before 1971.

Information about unpublished materials on the Census of Population and Households may be obtained from the User Inquiry Service, Census Data Dissemination Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T7. Users solely concerned with Census of Agriculture data may contact User Services, Census of Agriculture Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T7.

Consumer Income

A micro data file is available for the year 1971 and the intention is to release such files from surveys with larger samples (e.g. 1973, etc.). Inquiries about this material as well as request for special tabulations should be directed to: Data Dissemination Consumer Income and Expenditure Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0T6, or telephone 992-4742, Area Code 613.

Education

The Education, Science and Culture Division provides statistics, commentary and analysis in a series of publications ranging from occasionals to annuals, plus a number of special studies.

A Service Bulletin presents tables and text using the most recent data available or preliminary figures, on current topical issues in education.

The Division is developing computerized educational information systems. These systems provide users with the capability to access data files and request tables not produced by the division. The requests however, necessarily operate under the secrecy requirements of the Statistics Act. At present there are several operational systems:

University Student Information System (USIS);

Community College Student Information System (CCSIS);

Elementary-Secondary Teacher System (ESTS);

University and College Academic Staff System (UCASS), and several others.

Requests for further information should be directed to the Education, Science and Culture Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0T6, telephone 995-9690, area code 613.

Imports or Exports – Special Studies

On request, special studies of import and export commodities can be undertaken to provide a finer breakdown of any published commodity class, subject to the availability of appropriate descriptions on customs documents and also to the secrecy provisions of the Statistics Act. Studies are priced on a cost recovery basis in addition to a $50 per class feasibility study charge.

Following receipt of request, the subscriber will be informed about what information he could expect, how soon a detailed survey could be undertaken and its cost.

Requests for additional information concerning these services should be directed to the Special Information Section, External Trade Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, telephone 992-0514 or 992-8896, area code 613.

Supplementary Methods of Dissemination

Computer tapes with the same information published in regular reports are available to users interested in obtaining revised time series of selected commodity classes or collating with related economic data. Also available on tape is information tailored to user's specifications, e.g. by mode of transport, region of lading, etc.

Microfiche

Commencing January 1975 a new subscription service was made available to users of Trade of Canada data. This constitutes complete copies on microfilm of regularly published reports. Micro-filming facilitates easier access and quicker dissemination of information as well as enormous space savings. For example, the detailed monthly report "Exports by Commodities" (Catalogue 65-004) reproduced on three microfiches can be delivered to users approximately one month before the printed report.

Family Expenditure

Some unpublished tabulations, from the 1969 family expenditure survey is available, a list of which will be supplied on request. Unpublished tabulations are also available from some of the earlier surveys. Inquiries should be directed to the Family Expenditure Section, Consumer Income and Expenditure Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0T6.

Input-Output Tables

Input Output Tables for the years 1961-66 have been completed. Small level aggregation was published in the February, 1975 edition of the Canadian Statistical Review. Medium level aggregation is under preparation for release in the spring of 1975. Work is underway on the compilation of annual tables for the years 1967 to 1971. A feature of the Input-Output Tables for the 1970's will be a greatly expanded number of commodities (more than 1,500); the number of industries will accord, in most cases, with the 4-digit level in the 1970 Standard Industrial Classification (SIC). For historical continuity, a concordance has been prepared between the input-output commodity classification and the principal commodity classification as well as between the Input-Output industry classification, the 1960 SIC and the 1970 SIC.

There is also work underway to prepare constant price Input-Output Tables, initially for the 1961-66 period. This will have an impact on current price results, and thus some current price results might be revised after the constant price equivalents have been analysed. It is planned to have the current price tables for the years 1967-71 completed by mid-1976, with the constant price results to follow by the end of the year.

Inquiries should be directed to the Input-Output Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, telephone 992-5180, area code 613.

Labour Force Statistics

Monthly estimates of the population, labour force, employed, unemployed, not in the labour force, unemployment rates and participation rates are given, including numerous cross-classifications by age, sex, region and province, agricultural and non-agricultural industries, occupation, hours worked, number of months looking for work, and reason for absence from work. Sub-provincial data are also provided.

In addition the results of the monthly labour force survey and some of the associated special surveys carried out in conjunction with it are available in micro data form for the reference period July, 1973 onwards.

Detailed information may be found in The Labour Force (Catalogue No. 71-001). Enquiries should be directed to the Request Officer, Labour Force Survey Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario. The telephone number is 992-2750, Area Code 613.

Manufacturing

Principal statistics of the manufacturing industries are available on user-supplied computer tapes as follows:

- (a) Canada and provinces by twenty industry groups, 1949-1961 based on the 1948 Standard Industrial Classification for 1949-1960, on the 1960 revision of the SIC for 1957-1961.
- (b) Canada and provinces by industry group and industry for 1961-1971, based on the 1960 revision of the SIC as applied for 1969. (Certain of the Canada-level data are also available from CANSIM.)
- (c) Canada and provinces by industry group and industry for 1970 to latest available, based on the 1970 revision of the SIC.

For information and current prices, contact Regional Analysis and Development Section, Manufacturing and Primary Industries Division, Statistics Canada, Tunney's Pasture, Ottawa K1A 0V6; telephone 996-4991.

Selected principal statistics for size groups of establishments according to total employed per establishment for provinces are available by twenty industry groups for 1967-1971 and by individual industry for 1970. Available from Multi-Industry Analysis and Integration Section, Manufacturing and Primary Industries Division, Statistics Canada, Tunney's Pasture, Ottawa K1A 0V6.

Data for certain geographical areas, such as unorganized areas, not published in Catalogue No. 31-209, "Manufacturing Industries of Canada: Geographical Distribution" because of space limitations, are available at no charge. Also, data for special area combinations requested by the user can be obtained. As well, there are some tabulations available for 1961 and 1966 data making them comparable with the 1971 definitions of the Census Metropolitan Areas, Census Agglomerations and Economic Regions. For information, contact Regional Analysis and Development Section, Manufacturing and Primary Industries Division, Statistics Canada, Tunney's Pasture, Ottawa K1A 0V6.

Merchandising and Services

In addition to its regular publication program, the Merchandising and Services Division undertakes and produces a number of special tabulations.

The resulting data may be published in the Statistics Canada Daily or Infomat, as in the case of a semi-annual report on hotel receipts (based on a panel of large hotels with 50 or more rooms), or included in the Merchandising and Services "Bulletin", which is published at irregular intervals throughout the year. Other articles of interest appear from time to time in the Canada Year Book, the Canadian Statistical Review, or the Statistical Observer.

Requests for further information on these special studies and other related projects should be sent to the Director, Merchandising and Services Division, Statistics Canada, Room 212, General Purpose Building, Ottawa, Canada K1A 0V4. The telephone number is 996-9295, Area Code 613.

Prices

The Retail Prices and Living Costs Service Bulletin (Catalogue No. 62-005), is used as a vehicle for introducing new and up-dated retail price statistics. Two new reports will be added to the catalogue listing, viz., Construction Price Statistics Monthly Bulletin (No. 62-007), and Construction Price Statistics Quarterly Report (No. 62-008). These publications will be used to introduce new construction price statistics and to provide users with a comprehensive set of construction price statistics on a regular basis. Service Bulletin No. 62-006 will be discontinued.

In addition to the published price statistics, a variety of unpublished statistics are available on request. To supplement the information contained in published reference documents some technical statements are available. These statements include guidelines respecting the various uses of price statistics, e.g., the use of price statistics in escalation contracts.

If additional work is required to make available unpublished information a fee will be charged. Requests for additional information about the foregoing unpublished material should be directed to the Prices Division, Statistics Canada, Tunney's Pasture, Ottawa, telephone 994-9052, Area Code 613.

Transportation, Communications

The Aviation Statistics Centre provides statistical services to the Canadian Transport Commission and the Ministry of Transport, including both regular and special studies of a detailed nature. While summaries of general interest are published in the Aviation Statistics Centre Service Bulletin (Catalogue 51-004), some additional material is available within resource, timeliness and confidentiality limitations or at the discretion of the C.T.C. and M.O.T. For further information, write to the Chief, Aviation Statistics, Transportation and Communications Division, Statistics Canada, Room 1201, Congill Building, 275 Slater Street, Ottawa K1A 0N9.

Statistics are available from the Water Transport Unit on the origin and destination of both international and domestic cargoes loaded and unloaded at all unpublished ports. This information supplements similar statistics for the eight principal Canadian ports published in the Shipping Report, Part IV, Origin and Destination for Selected Ports (Catalogue 54-206). Commodity origin and destination is also available for all unpublished material in similar format to that supplied in Shipping Report, Part V, Origin and Destination for Selected Commodities (Catalogue 54-207). Additional Water Transportation data are released in the Water Transport Service Bulletin or are available on request from the Water Transport Unit, Transportation and Communications Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0V5.

Other subject-matter areas covered by the Transportation and Communications Division also release special statistical information of general interest in service bulletins on Railway Transport, Road Transport and Communications. Information of more limited interest may often be obtained, within confidentiality limitations, when aggregates are published in the Statistics Canada Daily, by writing to the address given or to the subject-matter unit, Transportation and Communications Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0V5.

Studies and Reports

A number of departments are engaged in programs of analysis of trends and developments which has resulted in the publication of studies and reports which often supplement the information contained in Statistics Canada publications. For example: The Economic Council of Canada has the responsibility for engaging in and publishing studies on the medium and long term prospects of the economy. Title, Subject and Commodity Index

This combined Title, Subject and Commodity Index has been designed to help users locate the required publications. It contains numerous cross-references. Numerical references are to catalogue numbers of the publications for which further descriptive information is provided in the main part of this catalogue. All main words in titles are capitalized.

While this index contains several thousand references to subject and commodity data, not all subjects and commodities covered in Statistics Canada publications are listed. Excluded are the commodities covered in export and import statistics, which are adequately indexed in Volume III of the Export and Import Commodity Classifications (Catalogues 12-523 and 12-526).

Again, the publication "Products Shipped by Canadian Manufacturers" (Catalogue 31-211) contains a detailed alphabetical list of commodities manufactured in Canada, showing value and amount of production for the year covered. No reference is made to the publication in the index, except where the production statistics are not shown in any other publication. However, users may assume that manufactured commodities entered as appearing in other reports also appear in Catalogue 31-211

In the case of other omissions, the entries for related items often afford a clue to where information, if available, may be found. Lastly, the coverage is increasing and those who cannot locate what they seek should send an inquiry to the Central Inquiries Service, User Advisory Services Division.
